May Propose Tax Cut as Stimulant: Ike Lefkowitz Says Chamber Is Vital to Community

Shopping Survey Is Reported Organization Is Aid to Business

"A dynamic and effective Chamber of Commerce is an indispensable ally of business," Attorney General Louis J. Lefkowitz said here Tuesday night at the annual dinner of Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce attended by approximately 200 men and women at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

He said, "My own work as lawyer for the people of the state is made easier by the significant cooperation I receive from the various chambers of commerce and business bureaus." The speaker, a former Republican assemblyman, justice and judge, who was admitted to the bar in 1926, declared, "The small businessman will find not only a clearing house for information but an ally in the chamber of commerce which can represent his interests better than he can as an individual."

Use Reputable Firms

He urged that individuals and firms deal with reputable people and avoid eager promoters with ill intentions. "There are 250 million stock frauds a year," he said for emphasis. Caution was also given against fraudulent advertising and sale of commodities.

President Robert L. Sabin of the local Chamber stressed that the organization must be a vital part of the community and that individuals must be willing to serve on committees. He said he appreciated the cooperation given him since he took over leadership after Vincent R. Burns left Kingston for a promotion by Montgomery Ward in Albany.

Must Think of Community

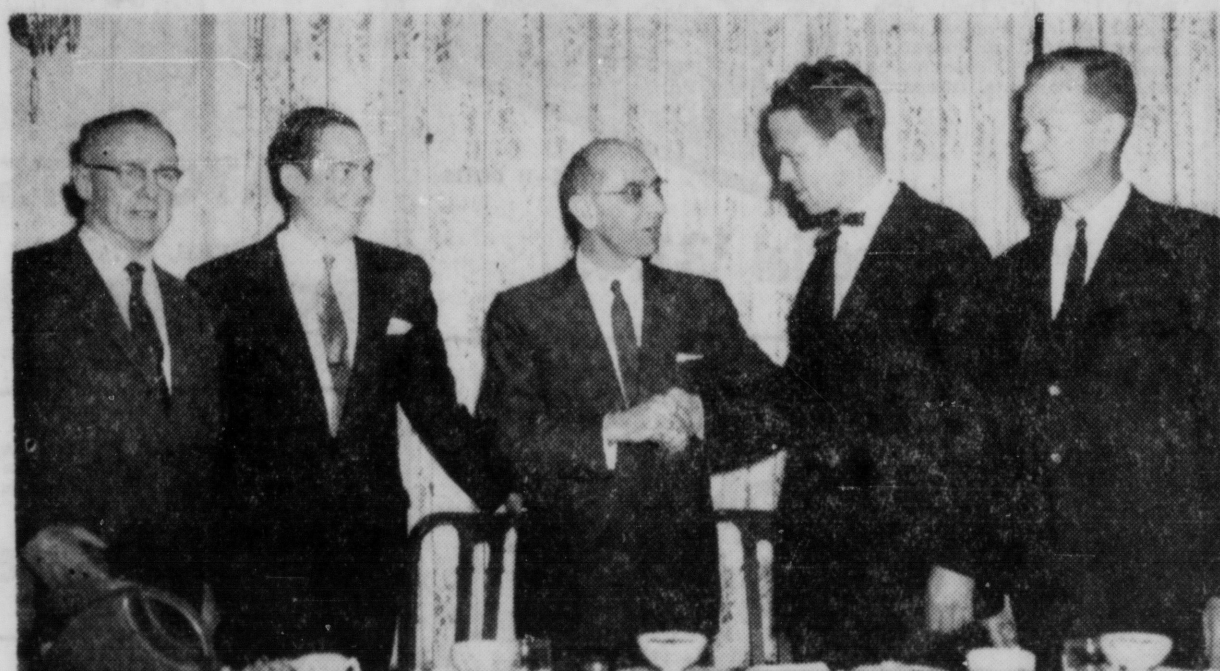

Sabin stressed good public relations, and a good sound progressive program with each member ready to take an interest in all phases of community life—area planning, new construction, schools, water supply, and projects to attract business to the area. Transportation and parking are two of the vital items to be studied, he declared. Merchants should pay attention to shopping surveys, he insisted, because they are guides to the status of business. He quoted preliminary figures on a survey now being conducted by the Chamber in cooperation with the New York State Department of Commerce.

In November, 10,000 questionnaires on shopping were sent out through the schools of Kingston and the area, also through industrial establishments to check on buying habits.

Gives Figures

A return of 4,200 of the forms to date reveals that 46 per cent shop outside of the Kingston area frequently; 44 per cent once in a while; 10 per cent always deal with local merchants. When the survey is completed retail merchants, members of the Chamber of Commerce and representatives of the State Department of Commerce will get together to discuss the matter. Attorney General Lefkowitz said his first visit to Kingston was in 1926, when he met the late Philip Elting, former chairman of the Ulster County Republican Central Committee, and collector of the Port of New York, for whom he had great affection.

One of his teachers at Fordham Law School (he graduated Cum Laude in 1926) was another (Continued on Page 6, Col. 5)

School Reply Lack Ruffles Aldermen

Lack of official reply from the education board on a proposed referendum to decide the consolidated school district proposal was criticized at last night's Common Council meeting.

Frank C. Sass, (D) Seventh Ward, noted that the question is considered the most important one in 50 years affecting the local school system, and he wondered why no communication had arrived from the board.

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye, said he would ask the city clerk to forward a copy of the letter originally forwarded to the board, plus a request for a reply.

James K. Ryan, (D) 10th Ward, majority leader, said he had attended a meeting at the Chambers School, and it appears, "that with the district center in Kingston, as proposed, $4,000,000 a year would be spent for four years on new construction, and $500,000 a year for four years on reconstruction and renovation."

Ryan said it has also been noted that while Kingston would show a tax rate increase under the plan, the other areas involved would show decreases under present rates. "We, in this city," he said, "don't need great structures imposed upon us. I think we might even get along with what we've got." This, he said, however was not to mean that he was not in favor of meeting educational standards, but he did not believe in going beyond what might actually be needed. "We should find out how much Kingston can gain or lose."

The resolution proposing the referendum, offered by Alderman Ryan at the Jan. 22 meeting of the council, was adopted (Continued on Page 12, Col. 8)

Shandaken Youth Arrested On Charge of Child Seizure

A 19-year-old Shandaken youth who allegedly went down to Arlington, Va., and brought his 13-year-old sister back to see their dying mother has been arrested on a charge of illegal seizure of a child.

He is Charles Wesley Becker, who was picked up on a warrant from Arlington police authorities.

The Buffalo Republican then launched into a sweeping denunciation of Harriman's administration, finally calling for a cut in the governor's budget. The usually unflinching Democratic governor then took the speaker's stand. Bristling, he challenged (Continued on Page 33, Col. 8)

Police, Fire SS Pay First Step Is Started

Committee Studies $85,000 Request for Engines and Hose; Appeal for $7,464 to Extend Fire Alarm System in City

A first step toward social security coverage for members of the police and fire departments, with the same six-quarter retroactive provision as granted other city employees, was taken by the Common Council last night.

The aldermen took the only action permitted, to date, the adoption of the so-called "D" resolution covering the extent of retroactive coverage. Later action will follow decisions to be announced from Albany. A budget note for $14,000 to cover the city's share of retroactive coverage, as granted to other city employees last year, was authorized, and the aldermen also approved another $7,000 note for repair of the retaining wall on lower Delaware Avenue.

Fire Requests Studied

Left with the finance committee was a bid for $85,000 from the Board of Fire Commissioners to cover purchase of two new fire engines, new hose and other items, and another request for $7,464.46 to cover the cost of extending the fire-alarm system.

Left with the traffic committee were a bid to use a tract of land off Lucas Avenue, near Green Street, for a parking lot, and another which would exempt persons serving on grand juries from parking charges.

The council authorized transfer of a 1950 Ford pickup truck formerly used by the dog warden to the public works department, as requested by Mayor Edwin F. Radel, and granted Fire Chief James M. Brett permission to attend the Memphis Fire Department. Instructors' Conference Feb. 18 to 21 at Memphis, Tenn.

To Attend Planning Parleys

Alderman-at-large Harold L. Kaye named Aldermen Frank C. Sass, (D) Seventh Ward, and Samuel J. Perry, (R) Fifth Ward, as a committee to represent the council at planning board meetings. This action was on request of Mayor Radel, who proposed that a minority and majority party member be named so that the council could be informed of action taken by the board.

Mayor Radel, in his letter explaining social security coverage for firemen and policemen, said it "is the desire of certain members of our police and fire departments to seek coverage under the social security system."

One Step at Time

The mayor said he had "pursued the method of obtaining coverage through the New York State Social Security Agency, at Albany, and has been informed by E. G. Sorenson, director, that only one step may be taken at the present time towards this end."

This, he said was adoption of the so-called "D" resolution making provision for retroactive coverage. In his letter asking the $7,000 budget note for the lower Delaware Avenue project, the mayor noted that Joseph Gruner, of Highland, had been selected as the contractor. The street, he noted, is an important one in travel to and from the Ponckhockie section. The retaining wall above Abruzzo Street was washed out by heavy rains late last year.

Board Gives Approval

Fire Chief Brett informed the aldermen that the fire board recently approved purchase of two fire engines at a cost of $52,000, a chief's car at $4,500, a fire alarm truck at $5,500, 10,000 feet of 2½-inch hose at $21,500 and 1,000 of 1½-inch hose at $1,500, bringing the total to $85,000.

A fire department request to gain a modern fire-prevention code, was also left in committee. Brett, in his letter, as he had done in his annual report, suggested adoption, with certain recommended changes, of the code, edition, 1956, "as promulgated" (Continued on Page 33, Col. 6)

State Advice Available

Mayor Radel said Commissioner Reuter indicated that this type of state service is available, and it was his suggestion that the letter be written to the governor.

Report on Police For Harriman First

Kingston will not receive a report on the Reuter probe of the local police department until after it goes to Gov. Harriman, Mayor Edwin F. Radel said today after a meeting yesterday of the Board of Police Commissioners with Arthur Reuter, acting state commissioner of investigation and his staff.

A main purpose of Tuesday's session was to seek an early but complete report on the investigation, but it brought other important developments including a decision to ask Gov. Harriman directly for state help in reorganizing the police department.

It was also decided that the Civil Service Department, through Gov. Harriman, be requested to arrange for an early report on the Feb. 1 civil service examination to fill police force vacancies. The mayor also reported a "feeling of unanimity regarding the necessity of improving the morale of the department and the restoring of public confidence in the department."

Would Restore Confidence

It was also decided that the Civil Service Department, through Gov. Harriman, be requested to arrange for an early report on the Feb. 1 civil service examination to fill police force vacancies. The mayor also reported a "feeling of unanimity regarding the necessity of improving the morale of the department and the restoring of public confidence in the department."

Reorganizing Discussed

"Much discussion," the mayor said, "was devoted to the problem of reorganizing the police department. It was unanimously decided that a letter be directed to Gov. Averell Harriman informing him of our need for reorganizing the police department, and requesting of him assistance in the form of a qualified person, of the New York State Police, who would be familiar with the type of problems we face, and would be capable of helping us solve them."

If state help in reorganization is granted, it would preclude the need of the city purchasing outside help, such as former Police Commissioner Arthur Wallander, (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

At that time the executive committee is expected to present a list of chairmen and workers for the various departments of the Council including program, general and central. William A. Spring Specials Are Sales Day Features

February Sales Days, sponsored by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association will open tomorrow and continue through Friday and Saturday.

The majority of merchants will be participating in the sales event and all participating merchants will display signs in their windows and are pledged to present real "bona fide" values.

Stanley London, chairman of the annual values event committee, said the February Sales Days sale marks the conclusion of the winter season and the approach to spring. Many of the participating merchants will display "spring specials."

Stores will remain open the usual hours Thursday and observe the late 9 p. m. closing Friday with the usual Saturday closing hours in effect.

Courtesy Asked for Parkers Spaces Cut Down By Carelessness

Closer compliance with parking meter regulations, especially during winter conditions, was asked in a traffic committee resolution, adopted by the Common Council last night.

The resolution, asking support of the press and radio, sought full public cooperation in the use of meters "particularly when packed snow and ice interfere with the use of the meters."

Should Obey Rules

Carelessness in parking during these conditions has been called to the committee's attention, it said. "We realize that under these conditions, it is difficult to park as near to the curb as normally, it should still be possible to park 'in the same relation' to the meter as ordinarily."

The committee advised that "the front bumper should always be brought up near the meter" (Continued on Page 6, Col. 4)

Area Streams in Peril: Gilligan Lions Hear Plea for Public Action to Save Trout Waters

Edmund Gilligan of Woodstock, rod and gun editor of The Herald Tribune, called for public action to preserve Ulster county's streams from defilement and destruction in a talk before the Lions Club on Tuesday.

Speaking from the point of view of a sportsman, Gilligan charged that political action was an overriding factor in the abuse of streams, deploring the fact that the average individual is "too tired" to become politically active and is discouraged by the "ins" from taking a strong position.

He told the Lions Club at its weekly luncheon meeting in the Governor Clinton Hotel that Ulster county's trout streams are in peril.

Hits Political Action

Gilligan called attention to the destruction of the fisheries off the Grand Banks of Newfoundland by modern fishing appliances, charging that the New England fisheries were also destroyed by "political action."

He said that in the New England fisheries tight nets were legal, resulting in the netting of many smaller fish, thus lowering prices. In time, however, conservation measures increased the size of the net apertures to 4½ inches to allow underdeveloped fish to escape for further growth.

Confident Recession Will Halt Business Upturn Seen by Summer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today it could be the administration will recommend a tax cut if an expected business upturn fails to develop about midyear.

He said, "My own work as lawyer for the people of the state is made easier by the significant cooperation I receive from the various chambers of commerce and business bureaus."

The President—his voice very hoarse and husky because of a cold—told a news conference, however, that he still believes it is reasonable to assume business will pick up about the middle of the year.

Eisenhower said he looks for the current business recession certainly to continue through this month and next. But as summer comes on, he added, there should be an upturn.

A reporter asked whether the administration will be for a tax cut if the expected upturn does not materialize. He went on to say that a reduction certainly would be a real stimulant to business.

He added, however, that it would be possible to go too far in the tax cut direction.

Eisenhower commented that it wasn't very long ago that the country was concerned about inflation.

Eisenhower developed a cold and what the White House called a slight sore throat on his return from a weekend of golf and general relaxation at Augusta, Ga.

Appears Listless

He turned up at today's news conference looking, in the opinion of some newsmen, a bit pale and somewhat listless. At today's conference Eisenhower dealt with these other matters:

Summit conference—The United States is working very hard in an effort to make a summit conference with the Russians possible. But at that point, Eisenhower said, he sees no basis for any truly favorable conclusion on either of two points: that U. S.-Soviet relations have improved, or that the prospects for a summit meeting are better.

That was in response to a question as to whether he felt the series of letters he and Soviet Premier Bulganin have exchanged contributed to any betterment of relations.

Atom-Free Zone Out

On a related point, Eisenhower said emphatically that the United States will never agree unilaterally to creation of any atom-free (Continued on Page 33, Col. 7)

Another Bridge Finance Meeting Set for Monday

ALBANY (AP)—Members of the State Bridge Authority and Hudson Valley legislators will meet Monday to renew efforts to draft legislation on authority finances.

The bridge agency is seeking legislation to authorize it to increase from 50 million to 70 million dollars the maximum amount of bonds it may issue.

The legislators want details on how the funds will be spent. The authority also wants the Legislature to make toll policies flexible. Present law requires that rates on all bridges under the authority be uniform. The agency wants to adjust those for the Newburgh-Beacon bridge, to pay for its construction without raising other tolls.

Members of the sub-committee of Hudson Valley legislators who conferred with the Authority were Senator E. Ogden Bush, Walton, representing the 34th Senatorial District, embracing Ulster, Greene, Delaware and Sullivan Counties; Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, Woodstock, Ulster County; Senator Ernest I. Hatfield, Poughkeepsie, 35th Senatorial District embracing Columbia, Dutchess and Putnam Counties, and Albert Abrams, representing Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh, representing the 33rd Senatorial District, embracing Orange and Rockland Counties.

Ave Erupts in Clash With Mahoney Over Budget Cuts

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman, usually calm, cool and collected in public, erupted in white-hot anger last night in a face-to-face clash with Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney.

The two, never friends, tangled over the state's record $1,800,000,000 budget in talks at the annual dinner of the Empire State Chamber of Commerce.

Mahoney, taking the dais first, said it seemed highly appropriate to him "that on an occasion like

Young Wife Seeks Custody of 7 Kin

KELLOGG, Idaho (P)—Mrs. Ed Moore, only 18, is seeking legal custody of her seven younger brothers and sisters.

Their parents were killed in an automobile accident last week.

"My mother was sick an awful lot and I always had to help," said the former Leona Larsen. "I quit school in the ninth grade to care for the children. I took care of them until I got married."

The younger Larsens are James, 15, Linda, 12, Julie, 10, Toni, 9, Kristie, 6, Nola, 3, and Viola, 2. Leona and Ed Moore were married 14 months ago and have no children. He is 28 and works at a paper mill at Lewiston, Idaho.

"The children all love Leona," Moore said. "She loves the children and I love my wife. That's it."

"Sure, it's going to be tough. But we think we can do it. We're going to ask for custody of all of them and take them to Lewiston. I'm making pretty good money and I think I can borrow if I have to so we can move out of our apartment and get a house big enough."

"Sure, Leona can handle the children. First time I ever saw her she had just killed, cleaned and cooked 25 chickens for a picnic."

Ave Opposes Guard Cut

ALBANY (P)—Gov. Harriman said today the nation could not afford to cut its National Guard strength 10 per cent.

President Eisenhower recommended the reduction in his new budget.

Harriman expressed his views in letters sent to members of New York State's delegation in Congress.

The President's plan, Harriman said, would reduce the guard by 40,000 men, to a strength of 360,000.

In New York State, this would mean a cut of about 2,700 men, to a level of about 24,300. The New York guard was reduced by 1,020 men last year.

Harriman Urges Polio Shots for Under 40

ALBANY (P)—Gov. Harriman today urged all New York State residents under 40 to take anti-polio inoculations this year.

In a talk prepared for the first meeting of his committee to end polio by vaccination, Harriman pointed out that last year the number of cases of paralytic polio in the state was reduced to 102, compared with an average of 1,376 cases each year in the three years prior to the first use of Salk vaccine.

"I hope that this year, with ample supplies of vaccine available, everyone under 40 will take the entire series of three shots, not only to reduce the risk of tragedy to themselves, but for the protection of their families and neighbors," Harriman said.

Case Is Put Over

The case of Hoover Herbert Weygant, 22, of 49 East Union Street, arrested January 29 for operating an automobile without proper registration, was adjourned until Thursday in the night session of City Court Tuesday. He pleaded not guilty before City Judge Aaron E. Klein. Five cases of parking violations also were disposed of in Night Court.

Why We Say--

SYMBOL OF UNITY: Oddly enough the hammer and sickle which now appears to be a symbol of disunity to the world was originally a symbol of unity between agricultural and industrial workers. In 1923 it was adopted as part of the national flag of Russia to help unite the country under the Communist regime.

Young's Suicide Linked to Note

NEW YORK (P)—The New York Herald Tribune today linked the suicide of railroad leader Robert R. Young to a letter he received from a small investor.

Young, chairman of the New York Central Railroad, shot himself Jan. 25 at his Palm Beach, Fla., home.

Business and financial editor Donald I. Rogers said in the Herald Tribune that Mrs. Young found her husband's body and that Young had opened only one letter of his morning mail that day.

The story continued in part: The letter, from a small investor—whom Young and many others called "Aunt Jane"—told Young:

"You betrayed me. You did not do what you said you would do. I own 10 shares of Central stock, and it represents a great deal of money to me."

The letter "may not have been the straw that broke the camel's back; but the few intimates who know this story believe that it was."

Only Young's closest friends knew he had suffered a nervous breakdown, apparently his second. As a nerve-wracked man he contemplated the prospects of his railroad, and was overwhelmed with a sense of inadequacy. It was then that he knew "Aunt Jane" had, indeed, been betrayed.

Young had tried to straighten out the Central but he couldn't. He had tried to investigate the entire railroad industry and its trade associations, but he could not.

His failure was reflected on "Aunt Jane."

Insurance Firm Moves

Jacob H. Tremper of the insurance firm of Tremper, Gaffken and McEntee has announced the removal of the insurance company from 42 Main Street.

How to swallow a bitter pill

First, find a bitter pill. There are so few nowadays. It all started because children, bless 'em, are so good at resisting bad-tasting medicine. You can medicate their chins or hair, but getting the stuff in them is beyond the ken of science. Kids can spit a country mile. So pharmacists began sugar-coating pills, putting medication in capsules, or mixing with sweet syrup. And we soon found that adults, too, like medicine the easy way. So now, most of our prescriptions are quite pleasant to take. If you should run into one of the few bitter ones, believe us, there are good medical reasons for it.

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—An Oklahoman who practiced law in California and Washington before entering the clergy is in line to be the next Episcopal bishop of California.

The Very Rev. James A. Pike, dean of New York City's Cathedral of St. John the Divine, was elected yesterday to succeed the Rt. Rev. Karl Morgan Block, who must retire Dec. 28 on his 72nd birthday.

Dean Pike was elected on the sixth ballot with 57 clerical and 221 lay votes after leading from the start. The votes were counted separately, with 56 clerical and 193 lay ballots required for election.

His election must be confirmed by a majority of bishops in the nation and of the standing committee of the national church.

OUR VIOLENT YOUTH

Decent Americans are naturally outraged at the violence which attends so many juvenile offenses. The story of youthful terror is no longer new to us, yet we are shocked again and again as fresh episodes unfold.

Two recent incidents provide sample highlights. A 19-year-old went on a killing rampage in Nebraska. And in New York a Brooklyn high school principal, caught in a crossfire of pressures after a flurry of violent crime among his students, jumped to his death from his apartment roof.

Threading through accounts of these and many other explosive juvenile outbreaks, one is struck by certain things which seem to get less attention than they deserve.

For one, the resort to violence by youthful offenders is so often drastically out of proportion to the alleged excuse for it.

A woman walking in the park is bumped by a boy. She asks: "Are you crazy?" Does he laugh or sneer or tell her to get lost? No, he knifes her in the back.

Six lads accost two girls and demand their pocket money, whipping out knives and stabbing them when the answer is "no."

This is how it goes. You can get a knife and a beating for smiling the wrong way, uttering an answer a kid doesn't like, or just doing nothing at all.

We as a people do not condone violence even when there is real provocation. But in today's rough-tough juvenile world, provocation isn't a necessary prerequisite.

So explosive are many of our teen-age offenders that in countless places the mere threat of violence is enough to strike terror.

This is the second aspect that merits attention.

Again and again we learn that youthful outbreaks are not met by countermeasures but by fearful silence. The constant refrain: "Don't say anything or they'll do something worse."

This petty blackmail of threatened violence is practiced by delinquent youngsters with shattering effect, in big towns and small. Few dare to challenge the menace of the strong-armed reprisal.

Obviously, long-range solutions lie in getting, somehow, at the root causes of this explosive violence. But while we are searching, we have got to find ways of countering it. To yield totally to fear is simply to give terror free rein.

CONGRESSMEN ABROAD

Forty-six senators and 176 representatives journeyed to foreign parts in 1957. With but one exception, these congressmen have made no public report of the amount of money they spent on these trips. That is a secret of Congress.

And that is a shame. When elected representatives of the people travel, presumably on the people's business, there ought to be no secret about how much of the people's money they spend. There is no implication, here, that all or even most of the congressmen spend more money than they ought to spend. But when they keep their expenses secret, a little public skepticism is bound to be aroused.

This could be averted by a simple accounting. If the money is well spent, what harm would it do the congressmen to give out the figures?

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
PAY TV

The mail has begun to come in on Pay TV and the argument simmers down to this: if you can get something for nothing, why pay for it? Some day that Pay TV will make so much money that Advertising TV will altogether go out of existence. Others say that Pay TV will be so much better than Advertising TV that the poor will get nothing but the left-overs. Still others make the argument that things are good as they are, that they like the commercials, and that it is only fair to listen to them since otherwise there would be no programs. They are even grateful to the sponsors despite the jingles.

The magazine "Broadcasting" sent me a study it had made in 10 cities which establishes that 33.4 per cent want Pay TV; 66.6 per cent are against Pay TV. The analysis is interesting and contains considerable data about TV tastes but it is inconclusive as such surveys are bound to be. Only one procedure can be conclusive in our competitive system and that is to permit Pay TV and Advertising TV to exist simultaneously and to compete against each other and to see which one wins in the long run.

After all, Advertising TV exists simultaneously with the movies and is reputed to be the cause for the financial difficulties in the movie industry. The reason for the movie industry's troubles is the fact that the large production companies sold their old films to television companies which are showing them along with advertising.

Despite the condition that the action of a story is slowed up while a damsel smokes a cigarette which is now perfect or an imitation doctor tell the audience to take something for a cold, people do like to watch these old films and to see the stars of yesterday, with the result that they stay home and look.

This competition between the home television set and the movie theatre continues to the motion picture industry. This is the way it should be. Either TV or the movies will survive or maybe both, but it is competition in a free market which will decide the question, not a bureaucratic agency of government.

TV is in the hands of a government commission which makes all the final decisions for it. This government agency, the FCC, is a bureaucratic enterprise which has life and death power over every phase of the radio and television business. The question of Pay TV versus Advertising TV will have to be decided by the FCC and Congress and those bodies may take into consideration many factors, not the least among them being the enormous investment which the networks have put into Advertising TV and the large numbers of persons employed therein. The question that will face the FCC is whether Pay TV will not disrupt the industry.

The answer, of course, is that nobody can foretell the result of a new method or device until it is tried. If the Pay TV companies go bankrupt it is sure proof that the public does not want Pay TV. If the companies grow prosperous and rich, it is sure proof that there is a good market for Pay TV. "Broadcasting's" estimate that 33.4 per cent want Pay TV, sight unseen, should be very reassuring for those who care to pay for what they see without listening to the hogwash that comes into a household on the difference between 20,000 and 30,000 feet and between one drug being faster than another. That 33.4 per cent is a very high figure in the circumstances and warrants that the device should be given an opportunity.

One argument against it is that such programs as opera, symphonic music, religious worship, etc., might suffer if Pay TV takes over. This is a sound argument that requires discussion. How often television or how many intellectual and religious programs are there? This raises the question of radio and its role which may one day be an increasingly important one. Certainly for news comment and fine music, radio is still better than TV. Although the growing tendency of local stations to abandon network programs on radio lessens the value of this medium.

Skin Specialist Can Possibly Aid Victim of Sensitive Nose

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

The nose is a prominent feature which is virtually impossible to conceal, thus anything affecting it is readily apparent.

Q—What causes redness of the nose and what can be done about it? It turns red when the weather is humid and when I drink anything hot or cold. In cold weather I am ashamed of it and in the summer it is the only part of my face which gets sunburned.—Reader.

A—There are, I think several possibilities. Sometimes a severe sunburn or a frostbite will make the skin and tissues of the nose extremely sensitive on later occasions. There is a possibility, too, that there is an allergy involved since there is a condition known as physical allergy, or hypersensitivity to heat or cold. Another possibility is a skin disorder known as acne rosacea. I can readily see how this is quite a problem to you and if I had a similar problem I should consult a skin specialist.

Q—If a man's hair is falling out more than normal is it good or bad to have a flat-top haircut?—G. W.

A—As far as the growth of the hair is concerned I should doubt that it would make any difference at all. A hair is not hollow when it is little or no evidence that close cutting or even shaving the hair of the scalp stimulates hair growth in normal male baldness.

Q—My mother, who is 75, has been told she has a hiatus hernia. I should like to know more about this.—E.

A—This is a bulging, or rupture, in a weak portion of the diaphragm muscle which separates the chest from the abdomen. The amount of weakness varies as do the symptoms. In some cases repair by surgery is indicated, but age is a factor and it is quite possible that surgery would not be recommended in your mother's case. In such instances careful attention to diet and appropriate medication may bring her considerable, though possibly not complete, relief.

Q—Please give me some facts about aneurysm.—Mrs. L. P.

A—This is a weakening of part of the wall of an artery associated with some bulging at the point of weakening. It perhaps is most commonly the result today of hardening of the arteries. An aneurysm may be located in almost any artery. It may be large and it may be small. It may produce symptoms or it may show none. It may be left alone or it may be best to try to treat it by some of the remarkable new surgical methods which have been developed over the past few years.

Q—A close friend has been told that he has miner's lung. What is this?—Mrs. S. M.

A—This probably refers to a condition more commonly called silicosis, or anthracosis. This would be the result of long-term inhalation of fine dust into the lungs with typical markings on an X-ray picture. It may or may not be associated with infections of the lung such as tuberculosis. The outlook depends on the degree of involvement, the complications, the occupation, the symptoms and like factors, so will vary widely from person to person.

"Is It Contagious, Amigo?"

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Economic policy discussion is today considered more confused than it has been since the depression 29 years ago.

The White House and Congress seem to be working at cross purposes on the subject. Private business does not endorse what either is trying to do. Management and labor spokesmen are at odds as usual, only more so.

On the one hand you have President Eisenhower's messages to Congress recommending cuts in public works and certain social welfare programs. The purpose is said to be providing more money for missiles and higher education, while still keeping the budget within a half billion dollars or so of a balance. The fact that the administration has asked for a five billion dollar increase in the national debt, to 280 billion, raises real doubts about whether the budget can be balanced at all.

CONGRESS GOES ALONG
ON increasing defense expenditures. It may appropriate even more than the administration asks. But pressure is building up to oppose the administration-proposed cuts in reclamation projects, public assistance grants to the states and all such measures intended to save government money.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's proposals to cut farm price support levels so as to reduce surpluses and save the government more billions gets little support.

In the light of these developments there are open charges that the Eisenhower budgets for this year and next are completely unrealistic if not actually misleading.

The reason behind these charges is the lack of willingness to tighten belts in Congress. Last year's economy drive spirit seems to be past. Bigger deficit spending is in sight.

In spite of this, National Association of Manufacturers and U. S. Chamber of Commerce recommended major tax cuts. They would have the effect of cutting government receipts and raising deficits.

WHITE HOUSE IS OPTIMISTIC about a business upturn this year. A panel of executive experts before the Joint Congressional Economic Committee could find little evidence to support this hope.

The only prospect for the economy was in increased spending for national defense. This makes missiles and higher education glorified WPA projects, in spite of denials.

Meanwhile, the proposals from economic soothsayers of organized labor unions make the bad business situation seem worse. And it is not just Walter Reuther's new demands for profit-sharing that throw government and management economists into a tizzy. Stanley J. Ruttenberg, director of the AFL-CIO department of research, is advocating a plan to "cut federal taxes without cutting federal revenue." This tops the NAM-USCC scheme. Ruttenberg's idea is to increase individual tax exemptions from $600 to $700 a year. He would make up nine billion dollars of the resulting revenue loss by closing all special privilege tax loopholes granted to business over many years.

WHAT MOST BUSINESS LEADERS have not yet admitted is that large scale unemployment and layoffs last year have put the heat on union officials for remedies that will stabilize worker income.

The theory of many labor union economists seems to be that wage increases now being demanded — in spite of decreased business — would increase purchasing power and so restore prosperity. Reuter's idea is to increase purchasing power by redistributing profits.

Both of these theories have just been attacked here by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of Iron and Steel Institute.

How much of the labor demand is sincere and how much of it is a smoke screen to improve bargaining position in forthcoming wage negotiations is of course debatable.

When the country is prosperous there can be big differences in economic theories without anybody getting hurt — as long as none of the theories is put in practice.

But when business is declining, the wide differences in proposed remedies only serve to make the average person wonder how much the supposedly smart economists of the country know what they're talking about.

Nasser's Syria Grab Called Soviet Coup for Oil Control

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Colonialism—in a more despotic form—has emerged in the Middle East. Soviet imperialism is in the saddle. Egypt has taken over Syria, and Nasser, paralleling Hitler, is hoping to take over neighboring countries one by one.

Without a vote of the people and with the aid of Communist infiltrators who will see that the forthcoming "plebiscites" are properly rigged to "ratify" the dictator's decision, Syria shortly will lose her independence altogether.

The term "union" of Egypt and Syria is an attempt to fool the world into believing that the two countries voluntarily created a single state. Actually, Nasser, aided by the Communist apparatus, engineered the deal, which in itself has no military importance but, as a source of potential friction, can nevertheless be the forerunner of a world war.

The idea that a "limited war" could be fought in the Middle East without involving Communist "volunteers," as in Korea, is fantastic. For the chances are that, if the Middle East brings on a war, it will draw in all the major powers of the East and West.

Just as Hitler's move into the Rhineland in 1936 and his later "union" of Austria with Germany did not immediately awaken the free world to the dangers ahead, so today's events in Egypt and Syria, even though more menacing, are not exciting world-wide concern. Nothing has been done as yet by the United Nations, for example, to inquire into this new form of aggression as the people of Syria are deprived of their sovereignty through the machinations of Soviet Russia.

Pipelines in Syria
For Syria henceforth will be an Egyptian colony. There may be some show of resistance inside the country by the elements that do not want to see their country remain a captive of the Communist regime but, without some aid from the outside, Syria will become the tool of Nasser and of the Communist regime in Moscow.

Most of the pipelines for the transport of oil—constituting an alternate route from the Middle East countries to Mediterranean ports—are in Syria. So the coup means that the Communists, having first made sure that they control Nasser and the Suez, now hold in their hands the future of the oil resources of the Middle East. As a strategic move in the "cold war," the Communists have obtained control over a very important area and now will begin blackmailing the other Arab countries in an attempt to force them into a Pan-Arab union. The step constitutes a threat to Jordan, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Israel as well as to Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

Reds Control Cairo
So far as the United States is concerned, it is committed to supply military help upon request if the independence of Iran, Iraq, Turkey or other Middle Eastern countries is threatened by Communist imperialism. This commitment was undertaken through the Eisenhower Doctrine. Unfortunately, the Communists got into Syria before the pro-Western elements there could assert themselves in opposition to Nasser. Moscow today controls all the radio stations at Cairo and has a large number of technicians of all kinds inside both Egypt and Syria. The annexation of Syria and Egypt will undoubtedly make it harder for the West to help the Syrian people to regain their independence. Certainly as long as Nasser is in command at Cairo, Syria will remain an Egyptian colony.

Soviet Strategy
There are no sound reasons for uniting Egypt and Syria. The Egyptians are not regarded as true Arabs, and there is no common border between the two countries. The real reason for the move is that the Soviet Union needed new pawns in the Middle East under a single stooge to play her game. The strategic moves of the Soviets in the "cold war" always have a military purpose. This time it is to gain possession of the very fuel on which the economy of Western nations depends.

While the West reads a series of hypocritical letters from Bulganin on disarmament, and while prominent Democrats in the United States take such missives seriously and make speeches calling, in effect, for peace at any price with the Soviet Union, the Communist dictators benefit from Western disunity and naivete.

Eventually the true significance of the Egyptian seizure of Syria will become clear. It is a move that makes war more likely in the troubled areas of the Middle East. It may prove to be the underbox for starting the flames of a world war, just as Hitler's tactics did in the 1930s.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK, Feb. 4—I have been having a little trouble with a fiction story. I wonder if you can help me out.

Boy meets girl, but this girl has a nasty disposition, she is not at all pretty, and this particular boy fills her with loathing. As author of the piece I am qualified to say that the boy, on his part, reciprocates her sentiments and that his character is no less repulsive than hers. What a pair!

I am beginning to suspect that the Saturday Evening Post will throw it right back, unread, postage due. McCall's, too.

I have had some nibbles from Broadway and Hollywood producers who do big, significant things about psychiatry, "deviation," and the criminal tendencies of members of the American armed forces overseas, but I am not sanguine.

The people of mine are very offensive, but they do not do anything real bad. No crazy, mixed-up dreams. Pretty good in their studies. No trouble with the police. No narcotics. They just do not like each other and the reasons why are so plain and strong that you could not possibly blame them. You will hate them yourself.

I met in one of those do-it-yourself elevators and they happen to be the only passengers on this particular trip. She drops her glove and the boy says, "You dropped your glove." She says, "I know it" and picks it up herself.

It turns out that they are both going to the same floor—the ninth—and when the car stops the boy steps out first, offering her his hand to precede him. Did I forget to say that he did not take off his hat in the elevator? I guess I did, but do I have to do all the "I's" and cross all the "T's" for you?

It turns out that they are both going to apt. 9-G, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thumshing Eltz, a Norwegian couple, attached to the United Nations, who can hardly wait to get transferred to Moscow. They are not Communists, or pro-Russian. They just want to get transferred out of New York because they honestly cannot figure how Moscow can be any worse. You may not like that. If you want people to like New York, write your own story.

The girl rings the door bell and Mrs. Thumshing Eltz opens it and greets them. She says "Come in," not "how nice to see you" or anything like that because fiction can impose just so far. They walk in and their hostess says "Miss Jones, this is Mr. Smith." Those are just working-titles and I do not want any lousy ambulance-chaser coming the next few days suing me in the names of millions and millions of characters named "Miss Jones and Mr. Smith. I do not care how repulsive any actual Miss Joneses and Mr. Smiths may be; they may be the dead images of these characters, but this story is a tissue of lies from start to finish. Not a word of truth in it.

Or scratch Jones and Smith. Substitute Miss Her and Mr. Him.

At this presentation Miss Her says, "Did I ask you who he was?" And the guy says, "I don't care who she is."

Pretty soon the man of the house comes from the UN. He kisses his wife and then exclaims, "Well, bring on the vodka and let us get into the ether as quickly as possible. I wonder if ten o'clock will ever come."

Well, they sit there and Miss Her says, "I don't drink." Not "thanks" or anything like that. Mr. Him says, "Me neither." Mr. Thumshing Eltz offers the girl a cigarette.

She says, "what kind are they?" He says, "House of Representatives of the State of Minnesota. We are dicker with the manufacturers of Parliament for a bribe of $100,000 to call these cigarettes 'Parliaments,' but, tentatively we are calling them 'House of Representatives of the State of Minnesota' for a dry run."

The girl then says, "I do not smoke that kind. I only smoke fireproofs or smokeless. Ten thousand doctors say they positively cannot irritate my throat."

The girl says, "This story is not getting anywhere, I guess. I will tear myself up and throw myself in the wastebasket."

The girl says, "With my figure, with my stringy hair, my rasping voice and nagging disposition, this story can't possibly sell." So she tears herself up, too, and the Norwegian couple say, "Well I never knew an evening to pass so quickly."

I am not much of a hand at fiction so I phoned Clarence Buddington Kelland of The Saturday Evening Post, told him the scenario and asked him if he could lend me a happy ending.

He said, "You can find a thousand of them in the guide to periodical literature and tendrils of spun-golden hair and tapering fingers and curving lashes shadowing the violet pools of her eyes, but you will have to go back and make the louse pick up her glove."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Most American husbands know more than their wives.

Even bachelors know more than wives.

These truths, long secretly suspected by men themselves, have been more or less scientifically proved by two young producers, Dan Enright and Jack Barry.

The pair produce two NBC-TV network quiz shows, "Twenty-One" and "Tic Tac Dough," on which some 1,600 contestants have won $1,200,000 in the last 18 months.

Odds Are Heavy

During that time 17,000 aspirants took a preliminary general information quiz of 100 questions. So, if you want to know what your chances of getting on such a program are, here is your answer: The odds are better than 10 to 1 against you.

The "weeding out" written examination has led to some disclosures that might interest psychologists as well as educators.

"For one thing," said Enright, "although housewives make up the largest single group to apply as contestants, they do the poorest."

"They simply don't have the range of knowledge that men do. Housewives usually can answer fewer than 60 per cent of the 100 questions."

"Men, on the other hand, get about 70 per cent correct answers—and so do career women. The reason that career women do so well is probably because they have to compete with men in the business world, so they have to keep better informed."

But Enright, wary of stirring up the wrath of housewives, readily admitted they had a realm of knowledge all their own—the art of homemaking—which is rarely investigated on quiz shows.

Don't Have Time

"They simply don't have the time to run their homes and still pick up all the general information their husbands know," he said. "In their free time, they like to escape from their cares. They want relaxation and entertainment, not heavy reading about world affairs."

Women generally, whether housewives or career gals, don't do quite as well as men even if tests show they are of real constant caliber. Enright still isn't sure why.

"One psychologist explained it was because women are naturally more averse than men to being challenged and placed in a position where they might publicly fail. But I'm not so sure that's so. After all, as many women risk marriage as do men."

Nature of Jobs

What occupational group does best on quiz shows? Oddly, it isn't teachers, doctors, engineers, scientists or lawyers.

"They are all tops in their specialties," said Enright. "But authors and newspapermen seem to have a wider range of information on general topics. They have to. It's the nature of their jobs."

Convent Gets Residue

WOONSOCKET, R. I. (AP)—St. Francis Convent at Allegany, N. Y., is bequeathed the residue of the personal estate of Miss Anne McKenna, under the terms of her will probated yesterday. The residue was estimated at $4,000.

Miss McKenna, who died in 1953, was a resident of the St. Francis House in Woonsocket, and left $1,000 to that house. She also left $1,000 to the Mother House of the Sisters of St. Francis at Allegany.

Confirms Ave's Choice

ALBANY (AP)—The Senate yesterday unanimously confirmed Gov. Harriman's recess appointment of Miss Mary Louise Nice of Tonawanda to the State Commission Against Discrimination.

Miss Nice is a former vice chairman of the Democratic State Committee. She was appointed to the $15,200-a-year job last July.

Craig Changes Mind

NORTH HEBRON (AP)—Harold Craig apparently is reconsidering his decision to run for Congress. The young bachelor-farmer said last fall after he won $106,000 in a television show that he might try for a seat in Congress in 1958.

Yesterday he said he was not "interested in running for Congress at this time."

Craig said he had conferred at Troy recently with Rep. Dean P.

Taylor and they had "discussed many things." Both are Republicans.

Asked if he had any other immediate plans to enter politics, Craig replied: "There isn't anything for quotation now."

Door Crushes Woman

NEW HARTFORD (AP)—A 41-year-old woman was crushed to death last night inside her garage when she was caught underneath a power-driven door.

Dr. Preston R. Clark, Oneida

County coroner, said Mrs. Jack Margolis had a habit of pressing the button close to the door and then running out before it descended.

Paint brushes have been in use for more than a thousand years.

Shady Man Is Suicide Victim

Clifford Denton Rose, 40, of Hutchin Hill, Shady, died instantly about 7:30 a. m. today from a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the kitchen of the home.

Rose had been despondent over a stomach ailment, according to Kingston state police.

Coroner Michael Galletta of Saugerties issued a verdict of suicide due to a gunshot wound of the head with destruction of the brain.

He said Rose was chatting with his stepfather, Harry Shultis, and a half-sister, Gloria Hamilton, in the living room this morning and told them he was going to kill himself. They didn't think he was serious.

He went into the kitchen, Galletta said, took a sawed-off 12-gauge shotgun, placed the barrel against the upper part of his forehead and pulled the trigger.

Investigating were Cpl. Edward Shannon, Trooper H. S. Rhodes and Woodstock Constable Clarence Snyder.

The body was turned over to the Lasher Funeral Home, Woodstock. Funeral arrangements are pending. He is reported to be survived by a sister, Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Chicago, Ill.

Greenblatt said yesterday he had received this word from attorneys for Det. Capt. Chris Gleitsmann and Det. Sgt. Peter Pleciastro. The attorney for Police Commissioner Ernest J. Modarelli had made a similar announcement.

But, confused and frightened, Lydia chose to spend another night in the cell where she had been confined since a few hours after Air Force Sgt. Ronald Dean was shot to death last Dec. 7.

McElroy Will Direct Space Programs: Ike

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today Secretary of Defense McElroy will direct all outer space programs in the Defense Department at this time.

Eisenhower told his news conference the scientists who are advising him expect to work out a program of outer space developments which they believe are possible and probable.

He said this program will be distinct from defense projects in the space field.

Timing Secondary

The defense program will be pushed under the direction of McElroy and his assistants, the President said.

Eisenhower said that Werner von Braun and other scientists would be among the last to predict any timing for projects such as sending a rocket to the moon.

But he said the scientists who are now working for him intend to rough in a program of outer space achievement. He said they are not so much interested in a time schedule as they are in organizing for space projects.

The President made his news conference comments as Republican senatorial leaders lined up solidly against any hasty move to take control of satellites and space weapons programs out of the Defense Department.

Sens. Knowland (R-Calif.), Bridges (R-NH) and Saltonstall (R-Mass) said in separate interviews they believe any precipitate action to create a separate space agency under civilian control might interrupt vital efforts to match Russia in the race to the stars.

President Eisenhower has directed Dr. James M. Killian Jr., his science adviser, to look into the matter and report to him whether the space program should be left in the Pentagon or transferred to a new agency.

Skirt Decision

A Senate-House conference committee dominated by Democrats skirted any final decision on the issue of civilian-v-military control yesterday. It wrote into an Air Force construction bill compromise language allowing the secretary of defense to go ahead for a year with development of missiles, rocket weapons systems and satellites.

The terms of the compromise avoided either authorizing or prohibiting the establishment of the Advanced Research Projects Agency within the Defense Department to manage missiles and satellite programs.

Secretary of Defense McElroy has contended he already has authority to establish the agency under his direct control. Under the compromise language, he could direct the development of systems and military requirements through "his designee." Previously the individual services have had a large measure of control over this work.

Reds Report Failure

LONDON — The Soviet government lost no time today passing the word at home and abroad that another American attempt to send up a satellite had failed.

Moscow Radio broadcast a Tass dispatch in its home and foreign services just 37 minutes after the news hit the wires in the United States.

Tass quoted an American news agency and made no comment. The broadcast said the attempt was made with a Vanguard rocket and "the Defense Department announced that the rocket blew up in flight shortly after it was launched."

Collision in Hurley

Two cars reportedly side-swiped each other late Tuesday afternoon on Joy's Lane, Hurley, according to a report in the Ulster County sheriff's office. Involved in the mishap were vehicles operated by Joseph Cardinal, 55, of Tilton, and Leo Robinson, 63, of Hurley. Deputy Sheriff Charles Dullea reported that the Cardinal car was apparently undamaged. The Robinson car had slight damage, he said.

Blames Secrecy

ALBANY — A scientist said today scientific research in this country has been impeded by a "vast system of secrecy," government red tape and poor utilization of resources.

"Inadequacies on the part of our government must be considered to be . . . failure on our part as citizens," said Dr. V. Lawrence Parsegian, dean of the school of engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Separate Powers Advised by Ike About Disability

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today the powers of Congress and the executive branch should be kept separate in any legislation dealing with presidential disability.

Eisenhower was asked at his news conference about a statement by Atty. Gen. Rogers that he would ask the President to veto any bill which gave Congress a majority voice in determining when a President becomes disabled and the vice president should take over.

Eisenhower said he assumed Rogers was talking about certain features in a particular piece of legislation. One proposal before Congress would set up a legislative commission to determine when a president is unable to carry out his duties.

Eisenhower said it was a subject Congress should be very careful in handling to see that the separation of legislative and executive powers is maintained. He said the question ought to be handled quickly, promptly and without the slightest partisanship.

Rogers had taken issue with a plan endorsed by House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.). At the time, he said, the power to determine whether a president is unable to function is the responsibility of the executive branch of government alone and can't be transferred by law to another branch.

The attorney general agreed with his predecessor, Herbert Brownell, that any change should be done through a constitutional amendment.

Rayburn, on the other hand, said he favors dealing with the disability problem by congressional legislation instead of going through the drawn-out process of amending the Constitution.

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON
THE U. N. OR THE CONSTITUTION?

Where do you get the right to travel abroad—from the U. S. A. or the U. N.?

Up to now we still get this right from the U. S. A., but we may lose it—and many more rights under the Constitution.

The U. N. has drawn up a "Covenant" which they call the International Bill of Rights. It says:

"Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own, and to return to his country."

Up to the present, the U. S. A. has the right to deny a passport, as well as to issue one. That has come in handy many a time. We have kept a lot of American pinkos from going to Russia, or elsewhere, and stirring up trouble for us.

But if we are ever fools enough to adopt this U. N. document, we will surrender the right to deny passports to pinkos and Reds. For a treaty or "executive agreement" becomes the supreme law of the land.

Clever little scheme, eh, what? This same U. N. document would also jeopardize our Constitutional rights to a free press, free speech, trial by jury and a lot of things for which our fathers died.

There is a determined group of people who have not seen—or do not wish to see—the folly of surrendering our sovereignty to a "passel" of foreign politicians.

Fortunately, the President is not as "sold" on the U. N. as formerly. Who is?

Lefkowitz Says

Kingstonian, the late John T. Loughran, who later became chief judge of the New York State Court of Appeals. The judge, a Democrat, was an excellent teacher, he said.

No Politics in Speech

"There'll be no politics here tonight, we're not here to talk on that subject," said Lefkowitz, who, according to Democrats in the State Legislature, is aiming at becoming governor via the prosecutor route taken by Republican Thomas E. Dewey.

Lefkowitz spoke as he did in reference to an earlier statement by President Sabin that one member of the Chamber threatened to resign because a speaker was to appear who was in the political field.

On Harriman Committee

"I might say," he stressed, "for his information I am to be vice chairman of a dinner for Governor Harriman, a Democrat in New York very soon."

The attorney general said there are times when men of all religious and political faiths gather together, and it is good. He reminded that Brotherhood Week is approaching, and advised that it is one time when men should realize its importance in these days when the peace of the world is threatened at every turn.

Speaking of the Chamber of Commerce he said:

We know that an active and energetic Chamber of Commerce is a necessary and vital part of each community. When the organization promotes commerce and industry, it also promotes labor—for the two are intertwined. Each is equally dependent upon the other.

Ally of Business

A dynamic and effective Chamber of Commerce is an indispensable ally of business. It is an industrial doctor in times of stress, taking the mercantile pulse and infusing stimulants when the patient's temperature rises. It is a partner in prosperity when conditions are favorable and basks in the rarefied atmosphere of good times; it is an active agent for improved conditions, both economic and governmental. It follows the policy of free enterprise, rejecting unfair governmental restrictions or interference which might tend to hamper proper and wholesome business practices and conduct.

I am pleased to acknowledge with gratitude that my own work as lawyer for the people of the state is made easier by the significant cooperation I receive from the various Chambers of Commerce, the Better Business Bureaus and from business organizations throughout the state. With me, you are deeply concerned with the need to continue the drive against a small segment of business which preys upon the gullible and the uninitiated and whose tactics and practices we justifiably condemn.

Foundation of Economy

Small business, which is the creation of the fundamental American spirit, is the foundation of our economic structure today. And New York State is the home of more small business firms than any other state in the country.

Although there is no all inclusive definition of small business, an indication of the importance of these firms is apparent in the fact that of the 550,000 businesses which have their home in New York State, 97 per cent of them employ less than 50 persons and 85 per cent of them hire seven or less employees.

Our nation's economy is affected by the welfare of the small business firm. The development of inventions, better ways of meeting consumer needs, improved advertising and selling techniques and more efficient methods of production frequently have been the fruit of forward-looking and progressive small businesses. Furthermore, many big industrial programs depend on smaller enterprises for essential parts, specialized raw materials and professional services which they cannot economically provide for themselves.

Many Problems

Recently, much public attention has been focused on the plight of many individuals who operate small firms and who face an ever-increasing struggle for survival and seem to be caught in a pincers of rising costs and less rapidly increasing prices for the goods and services which he sells. He also faces operational problems, involv-

Fire Damage Is $30,000 at Greer School Tuesday

Fire which apparently broke out in the laundry room of the Greer School, Hope Farm, in Millbrook, Dutchess County, Tuesday night caused considerable damage to the laundry, boiler room and kitchen of the 200-student preparatory school.

The loss was estimated unofficially and roughly "in the neighborhood of $30,000."

It is believed the fire may have been started by a defective water heater in the laundry room located on the top floor of the three-story brick building.

The building, in an L-shape and of considerable size, is connected to the main building (dormitory, classrooms, etc.) by a corridor about 50 feet long.

The main building and a garage about 60 feet from the burning structure were protected by firemen from four companies. These neighboring structures were kept thoroughly wet by fire hoses.

The whole roof, covered with slate, caved in at the kitchen end of the structure, firemen reported.

There was also considerable water damage and heavy damage to costly kitchen equipment.

Fire broke out at the well-known co-educational prep school about 9:30 p. m.

Responding were the Millbrook, Unionville, Dover Plains and Greer School Fire Companies.

Pontchartrain Bridge is 4 miles long and speeds traffic between New Orleans and points north. This extraordinary causeway cost 46 million dollars to build.

NEW YORK (AP)—The oil industry's problems multiply today at home and abroad. Here there are scattered gasoline price wars and threats to the price structure of crude oil because of large stocks despite sharp cutbacks in output.

Overseas the trouble ranges from "naturalization" trends in some areas to a threat to the long established 50-50 split of the profits. With any change Americans likely would be on the short end. Here are some of the developments American oilmen are watching:

The Indonesian government has withdrawn concessions to exploit oil fields in two areas once granted to the Royal Dutch Shell subsidiary B. P. M. whose investors include American, British and French interests as well as Dutch. Americans also hold other interests in Indonesia.

In Venezuela, Americans closely watch as a new regime takes over from the former military dictator of Perez Jimenez. American oilmen also hold other interests in Venezuela.

Itch of Piles Get Relief Now

Millions of sufferers in the last 40 years have found a way to fast relief from itching and smarting of piles. They use a delightful cooling soothing astringent formula — Peterson's Ointment. No wonder one sufferer writes, "The itching and smarting were relieved, and I slept all night. Peterson's Ointment is marvelous." 50c & 75c, all drug-gists. Be delighted or money back.

But governments have other ways of making money on oil, notably in new concessions. For example, Venezuela recently got 600 million dollars in cash for letting new concessions to highly desirable acreage on or near existing oil fields.

Spices, such as pepper, ginger and cloves, are a 150 million-dollar-a-year business in the United States.

Officials of Jersey Standard Oil, America's and the world's largest oil concern, in a study of trends in splitting profits, defines the 50-50 principle as simply meaning that the foreign government's "income from royalties and taxes must be equal to the company's profits after such payments; hence the country will benefit equally with the oil company within that country."

And finally, Egypt and Syria's union with a bid for all Arabs to join lends a long range threat to the 50-50 split obtaining in most Middle East oil fields.

Officials of Jersey Standard Oil, America's and the world's largest oil concern, in a study of trends in splitting profits, defines the 50-50 principle as simply meaning that the foreign government's "income from royalties and taxes must be equal to the company's profits after such payments; hence the country will benefit equally with the oil company within that country."

Field Is Promising

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Cornell University professor says the new science of magneto-aerodynamics holds great promise in the field of rockets and satellites.

In a lecture yesterday for the National Academy of Sciences, Dr. William R. Sears said the new science may yield a means for the safe return of artificial satellites to the earth's surface.

He also said that additional research may lead to tremendous increases in the thrust of conventional rocket motors.

Magneto-aerodynamics deals with what happens to the air when objects pass through it at extremely high speeds. Friction, compression and resulting high temperatures turn the air into a conductor of electricity.

Local Schools Represented in Press Project

Miss Hazel M. Steed, Executive Secretary of the TB and Health Association, 74 John Street, announced that two school papers from Ulster County were among the nine papers in New York State selected for entry in the National Judging contest of the 21st annual school press project.

Miss Steed said "Blue and White" of Wallkill Central School and the "Chatterbox" of Kingston School 7 are to be congratulated for their outstanding entries.

They were judged on the basis of accuracy of facts, relatedness to the subjects "Can We Wipe Out TB in Our Town" and "Your Future in a Health Career," evidences of originality, active research, reading interest and journalistic effort.

The School Press Project is sponsored by the Ulster County TB and Health Association, the National TB Association and the Columbia School Press to arouse the interest and concern of students and their families in the health and welfare of their communities.

Betty Hutton, Mate Agree to Divorce

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Betty Hutton, the blonde singer, said yesterday that she and her third husband, Alan Livingston, have agreed to a divorce and an even division of property.

A statement issued through the publicity office of the American Hotel, where Miss Hutton is staying and singing, described her as unable to talk to newsmen because of nervousness and a touch of flu.

The hotel representative quoted Miss Hutton as saying negotiations for the divorce started Monday with Livingston, an NBC vice president.

In Hollywood, Livingston told newsmen he had no comment on Miss Hutton's statement except to say that he hopes to work out their marriage problems. A decision is expected this week, he added.

Educators Firm On Removal of Mayor From Post

OSWEGO (AP)—The board of education says it is standing firm on its indefinite suspension of Mayor Vincent A. Corsall from the Oswego High School faculty.

President Norman A. Gover said yesterday the board had reached a unanimous decision to uphold the suspension after a hearing last week in which the mayor sought reinstatement.

Upon learning of the board's latest action Corsall said: "Education has been set back 50 years in Oswego as a result of this."

The mayor said he was going to fight "for the emancipation of teachers" and reiterated he would carry his fight to the courts.

Corsall was ousted from the faculty Jan. 2, the day after he assumed the office of mayor. The board, in announcing his suspension, said the duties of teacher and mayor were inconsistent in that the mayor appointed board members.

At a public hearing last week the board was asked to reinstate Corsall or suspend him only until April 1 when a referendum will be held to decide whether members of the board should be elected or appointed.

Film Stars Honor Charles Coburn

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actor Charles Coburn was honored last night at a party celebrating his 65th year in show business.

Dan Dailey, Barbara Stanwyck, Cecil B. De Mille, Danny Thomas, Gregory Peck and John Carroll were among the screen personalities who attended.

Coburn, 80, started in show business as a theater usher in his native Savannah, Ga. After many Broadway appearances he came to Hollywood in 1937 and won an Oscar for his 1942 supporting performance in "The More the Merrier."

Secret Bond Giver

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—The person who mailed Ben F. Decious three $100 series E savings bonds is doing a good job of keeping his identity secret.

"I haven't the faintest idea who sent them," the retired hotel and restaurant operator said last night. "And I don't know anybody in Salem, Ore., where they were mailed."

Decious received the first bond on Jan. 24 and two more on Jan. 27. No explanation. Nothing.

Church Heaters Taken

GREEN COVE SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—Members of the Long Branch Church in rural Clay County feel no warmth for thieves who have visited their church twice.

Four weeks ago the church's gas heaters were stolen. The electric heaters purchased to replace the gas heaters disappeared last night.

Your Income Tax Primer

BY RICHARD A. MULLENS

Written for NEA Service

Under our tax laws, if you sell property at a gain, the profit is subject to tax.

If, however, property is sold at a loss, you may or may not be able to deduct the loss, depending upon the type of property.

The loss on the sale of personal property such as your home or car is not deductible, whereas loss on the sale of investment property, such as stocks or bonds, is deductible.

Such as sales of property are reported on what is called Schedule D, a separate schedule which when filled out is filed with Form 1040.

You should file Schedule D if you had one or more of the following transactions in 1957:

1. Sale of your home, car, household furnishings, jewelry, or other personal property for MORE than it cost you. If you sold any of these items for less than it cost you CANNOT deduct the loss and need not report the sale.

2. Sale of securities or real estate you bought for investment or speculation.

3. Securities or nonbusiness loans which became worthless in 1957.

All of these transactions would be reported as Capital Assets on Schedule D, under either "Short-Term Capital Gains and Losses" or "Long-Term," depending on this rule:

A non-business or personal loan which became worthless in 1957 is a short-term capital loss regardless of how long ago you made the loan. The rest of the transactions will be short-term if you held the property for six months or less and long-term if held for more than six months.

If you sold your residence in 1957, read over the special rules on page 12 of the official instructions.

Note that under certain circumstances where the proceeds of the sale are used to buy another house, part or all the gain realized may not be taxed. Then check over the following additional information and tips:

The term "residence" includes a house, houseboat or house trailer. If you live in more than one place it must be your principal residence.

When part of the property is used as your principal residence, and part is used for business purposes or rented out, only the allocated gain on that part of the property used as the principal residence is not taxed. The gain on the business or rented part of the property must be reported.

For example, if a taxpayer renting one-third of his residence sells it for $6,000 profit, he must report one-third of the gain, or $2,000, but need not report $4,000 of the profit if he otherwise complies with the special rules on sale of a residence.

In determining how much you have to put into a new house in order to postpone the tax on a profit you made during 1957 in selling your old house, you start with the selling price of your old house and subtract selling commissions.

In addition, you can subtract expenses for redecorating done to assist the sale and performed within a 90-day period ending on the day you sign a contract to sell the old house, provided you pay for the redecorating within 30 days after the date of sale.

For example, if you sold your house for $15,000 paid a $1,000 commission and a $1,000 redecorating bill just after you sold, you will not be taxed on any profit if within the proper period you buy or construct another home costing $13,000 or more.

This is true even though you may have only paid $10,000 for your old home and hence have a gain of $3,000.

If you claim the benefit of special rules on the sale of your residence, be sure to attach to Schedule D the information asked for in the official instructions.

Even though you did not purchase a new home by Dec. 31, 1957, if you think you may either buy or build within the required period you need not report a tax on the profit from the sale of your old residence on your 1957 return, but should enter "none" in column (h), headed "gain or loss," of Schedule D.

If it develops that you don't buy or build and occupy a new residence within the specified time, then you must file an amended 1957 tax return and pay a tax on the profit.

Here are some tips to help you fill out Schedule D:

1. After filling in columns (b) and (c) the date acquired and the date sold, check to make sure all property listed under long-term capital gains and losses was held for more than six months.

2. Put "O" in column (e) (depreciation) unless at some time you rented out the property or used it in a business. You must show depreciation for any period during which the property was so used or rented. Watch for Article 8 for instructions on how to compute depreciation.

3. Remember to include in column (f) the cost of any improvements, such as an additional room, front porch or the like. Do not include the cost of repairs and ordinary maintenance such as painting the house. Any cost you include here reduces your taxable gain.

Your cost or other basis, which also goes in column (f) is what you paid for the property if you bought it. If it was inherited, it is the fair market value at the date of the decedent's death, or one year later at the election of the executor. If it was a gift received since 1920, the basis is whatever it cost the last person who bought it. If received before 1921, the basis is its fair market value at the time of the gift.

The schedule automatically includes only half of any long-term capital gains in taxable income. This half becomes part of your income, taxed at the same rate as your other income until you pass the 50 per cent bracket.

After the separate Schedule D is filled out, transfer either the gain or loss to the small summary Schedule D on page 3 of Form 1040.

Next: Pensions, rents, partnerships and depreciation.

Working for Peanuts

BELLEfonte, Pa. (P)—Most of the money for the support of the Bellefonte High School band comes from peanuts.

Each fall, members of the band canvass the school district selling peanuts. The proceeds go toward general band expenses. Band director Bruce I. Garner says it is practically the only means the band has for raising money.

Steel Hearts Save Lives

NEW YORK (P)—Every year

there are 50,000 children born in the U. S. with heart defects and until now most have been doomed to early death or invalidism. Steelways Magazine says that since the development of a heart-lung machine to make surgery inside the heart practical, there is hope that half of the children may eventually be able to lead normal or nearly normal lives. Originally designed for chemical laboratories where special precautions against contamination were necessary, the machine works on the principle a farmer uses in milking a cow. Steelways adds: "Twelve steel fingers operated by a steel-alloy can gently stroke the blood through a plastic or gum-latex tube pressed against a polished stainless steel plate." This, Steelways says, insures the blood in being absolutely free of air and gas before being pumped into the patient's arteries.

Appeal Is Argued
In DeGroat Case

An appeal from a burglary conviction had in Ulster County in November 1955 under which Donald E. DeGroat of 87 Fair Street, Kingston, was convicted of entering a home in Woodstock, was argued Tuesday before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Albany.

Joseph Avis appeared for appellant and Assistant District Attorney Joseph Torrance appeared for The People.

Delay in seeking an appeal, Avis alleges, was due to the fact that DeGroat did not have financial means to appeal his case following conviction in 1955. He was not represented by Avis at the prior trial. Last fall DeGroat along with other youths were charged with rape and at that time Avis represented DeGroat. Following that conviction and at the time of sentence, Avis advised the court that he intended to appeal the 1955 conviction and should be successful in setting aside the 1955 conviction it would have a bearing on the sentence in the rape case under which DeGroat came before the court as a second offender.

DeGroat has been in the county jail pending determination of a motion to admit him to bail pending an appeal from the rape conviction. That motion was decided against him on January 21, and it is expected he will be taken to Clinton Prison later this week to begin a 10 to 20 year sentence.

The burglary charge back in 1955 arose over sale of a gun which it was charged had been taken from a Woodstock residence and sold at a second hand store in Kingston. DeGroat at that time claimed the gun was owned by another man whose father had given him the gun and that this man had been at the store when the gun was sold.

The word, cotton, originated among medieval Arab traders who called it "quattan," meaning "a plant found in foreign lands."

Public Hearing on Trailer Ordinance Ends in Harmony

The public hearing on the controversial trailer ordinance attracted some 80 people to town hall last night, but failed to produce any fireworks and ended on a harmonious note that forecast peaceful compliance with the regulations when they are voted into town law by action of the town board.

Supervisor Joseph (Buzzy) Fitzsimmons opened the meeting and then introduced Abraham F. Molyneux, town attorney, who read the proposed ordinance and clarified several points for the benefit of the audience.

A half dozen persons asked questions pertaining to various phases of the ordinance, with Molyneux explaining the legal aspects relating to each of the questions.

Richter Praises Board

Attorney Hubert Richter of Kingston, who represented Mr. and Mrs. Raye Shults of Bearsville, said he believed the town board had acted in good faith on the matter and that his clients would process an application for a trailer permit under the new statute.

The Shultses in December had petitioned to have the ordinance abolished in the hamlets of Bearsville, Wittenberg, Shady, Lake Hill and Willow.

Richter said he believed the ordinance proposed last night by the board was a step in the right direction and he envisioned the day when homes and trailers would be treated equally under the law. He said he felt the ordinance as promulgated is a workable one and he praised the board for its attitude.

Questions during the discussion revealed that violation of the ordinance could result in a maximum fine of $200 and/or 30 days and would be enforceable by injunction, if necessary.

It was pointed out that since there is no building code in the town of Woodstock at the present time, the Town Board would have to be responsible for the public health and safety of the community. It was suggested, too, that persons consider directly the question of a building code before they started agitation for one. Attorney Molyneux warned proponents of such a move that the code is extremely rigid and cautioned against any rash move in that direction.

Parking Permits

In answer to a question posed by Victor Busch, the town attorney said a single trailer does not constitute a trailer camp. The ordinance deals with single, individually owned house trailers.

The question of permits for trailer parking was discussed and it was noted that permits for a 72-hour limit would be processed by the Town Board. Further extensions or other related policies would be at the discretion of the board.

One person inquired about minimum standards which trailers would be required to meet in order to comply with the law. Attorney Molyneux said that, among other things, the trailer would have to comply with strict requirements of the Ulster County Board of Health. The fire and water codes also would enter the picture, he said.

The town board is expected to take formal action on the ordinance at its regular meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the Town Hall.

Twenty Five Awards Made to Cub Pack 34

Twenty five awards were made to members of Woodstock Cub Scouts, Pack 34, and two den mothers were cited at the monthly meeting held at the Woodstock school.

T. L. Welker made the following awards:

Wolf Badge—Roderick McLeod, Mark Wetterau, West Blelock.

Bear Badge—John Mower, Jeffery May, Charles Strickland.

Lion Badge—Terry Breitenstein, Alan Combs.

Gold Arrow—Richard McCloughlin, Mark Wetterau, Jeffery May, Charles Strickland, Terry Breitenstein and Alan Combs.

Silver Arrow—Mark Wetterau, Terry Breitenstein, Alan Combs, and two silver arrows to Varick Graver.

One Year Pin—John Mower and Varick Graver.

Two Year Pin—Charles Strickland, Terry Breitenstein, Alan Combs and Ross Van Wageningen.

Boy Scouts Alan Holmizer and Terry Von Valkenburgh received an award from T. L. Welker for their assistance during the year. One year pins were awarded to den mothers Barbara Breitenstein and Ann Mower.

Movie-Makers Theme

Den No. 1 led the Pledge of Allegiance, Cub scout pledge, Cub scout promise and the singing of America. Milton Combs, substituting for Cubmaster John Majoros, welcomed the parents and den mothers. He thanked the parents for their fine attendance and support during the year.

The theme for the meeting was "Movie Makers" with each den staging a five-minute skit which outlined the history of movies. Den No. 3 opened the program with "Old Edison Flickers," followed by Den No. 6 with the "Silent Movie." Den No. 4 covered the "Vitaphone Era." Den No. 5 handled "Cartoons" with a Bugs Bunny skit and Den No. 2 took care of "Wide-Screen Cinemascope."

Den No. 1 made the title frames and cast which they showed prior to each skit. Combs commended the boys and den mothers for the fine job they did with the skits.

Combs announced that Robert Walker was graduating into the Boy Scouts and he was accepted into the organization by scouts Alan Holmizer and Terry Von Valkenburgh. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Others who helped to Franconia from the area and took part in the weekend events were Vincent Dean-Claudette Nevins driver-navigator in a MG-TD, Howard Humphries-Elliot Stolz in a VW, and Kim Seward-Dick Nevins in their Volvo.

Not all the excitement was centered at Franconia, however, as Bob Booth and his brother, Donn, piloted the famed "Will-Ford" at the Syracuse club's annual "midnite" rally to capture second place.

Democrats Hope To Crack GOP on Jobless Pay Bill

ALBANY — Gov. Harriman will try to crack a shaky Republican front in the Assembly to avoid an election-year veto of the GOP's unemployment insurance bill.

Democratic strategists figure they can upset the Republican apocalyptic by picking up only seven more GOP votes in the house. The pressure will be on. Although he wants top weekly benefits boosted from $36 to $45, Harriman is virtually committed to a third veto of the Republican measure, if it is passed. He rejected it twice last year because of GOP riders attached to it.

At the same time, the governor realizes another veto could be embarrassing in his campaign for re-election next fall.

The last time the Assembly passed the bill, at last June's special session, 15 Republicans bolted party ranks to vote with the Democrats. The party division in the house is 96-54.

If seven more Republicans could be persuaded to bail out, the measure would be defeated, 74-76.

A Harriman aide said the recent upsurge in unemployment will be a major Democratic argument in favor of passing the governor's "simple" bill raising benefits only.

Democrats tried yesterday to force that measure out of committee and onto the floor for a vote. But their motions were crushed by straight party votes in both houses.

During the debate, Republicans revealed they had abandoned efforts to work out a compromise and intended to send Harriman the same bill as last year.

The only change would be to make the higher benefits retroactive to last July 1, as the governor has proposed.

The Legislature's GOP leaders have their bill ticketed for action next week.

Besides boosting benefits, it would raise the payroll tax on seasonal employers. Harriman says this is unnecessary and would hurt the garment, construction, resort and canning industries.

was referred to the Public Welfare committee which amended it to include the words "and advertisements." It was adopted by the state farm organization's delegate body.

Subsequently it became Resolution No. 289 of the National Grange's National Welfare committee which reaffirmed a previous Grange policy along that line and recommended a closer screening of entertainment production in movies, plays, television and radio programs to remove immoral material." By vote of the National body at its 91st annual session, the Ulster county request thus has become an objective of the National Grange.

Selection of a jury for trial of the burglary, third degree; unlawful entry and petit larceny charges against former Police Officer Gilbert E. Gray was commenced Tuesday afternoon and when court recessed for the day two jurors had been seated.

Jurors selected at the first day session were Jack Katz and Mary M. Myers of Kingston.

Gray is charged with having entered the Montgomery Ward store on Sept. 20, 1956 and the Royal Tire Company store on Railroad Avenue in December 1956. A burglary charge, unlawful entry and petit larceny charge arises out of each of the two alleged offenses.

Denies Minutes Check

Trial of the Gray case was moved by the district attorney's office after County Judge Louis G. Bruhn had denied an application for inspection of the grand jury minutes. Judge Bruhn held that there was insufficient facts set forth in affidavits to warrant an inspection of the grand jury minutes from which the indictments came.

Aaron Klein, counsel for Gray, sought to inspect the minutes and alleged there was a failure of corroborative proof of testimony of alleged accomplices before the grand jury.

A similar motion in the cases of Bruce Clarke and Floyd Knap, former officers, is still pending before Judge Bruhn.

Resumption of the trial was delayed at the opening of court today when a conference was held prior to taking up the examination of further jurors. At noon no additional juror had been added to the panel as Assistant District Attorney John L. Larkin continued to examine prospective jurors for the prosecution and City Judge Aaron Klein examined prospective jurors on behalf of the defendant.

During the examination of prospective jurors Tuesday and today, Klein proposed hypothetical questions to the jurors in which he referred to the weight of evidence which might be presented. He inferred that questionable witnesses might be produced to prove the guilt of the defendant. He also asked if the prospective jurors would give close consideration to the testimony given by "top brass" or perhaps testimony from high officials of the police department in which defendant had been a member, and whether the jurors would consider carefully that testimony which perhaps might be given by a police officer who was later "elevated to deputy chief."

Prospective jurors were also asked if consideration would be given to testimony given by persons who have appeared before the grand jury and testified in order to acquire consideration for some act, or their own part in some illegal action.

NEW YORK (AP)—Grace Valentine, veteran actress who has made a hobby as well as a career out of the theatre, is giving a rich file of memorabilia to the New York Public Library. For 45 years, Miss Valentine has been collecting clippings, data and theatrical odds and ends. She has been on the boards a half century, starting as a pianist with a touring repertory company, and currently is in the off-Broadway production of "A Palm Tree in a Rose Garden." Miss Valentine is making the gift in her will at the suggestion of George Freedley, curator of the library's theatre collection.

Cut in Trains Asked By Roads Over Nation

Editor's Note: The marriage of railroads and passengers shows every sign of breaking up. They're further estranged every day, and a divorce may some day come. What's the answer? This is the second of four articles reflecting findings in a nationwide AP survey.

By WILLIAM FERRIS
Associated Press Writer

The railroads and their passengers are learning to live without each other.

This may be the most significant development in transportation in our generation. It reflects as profound a revolution in the method we use to get from here to there as the passing of the Conestoga wagon, the canal barge or the river packet.

Some railroads still fight hard for passenger traffic, and get it. Some railroad presidents still think they'll be able to maintain passenger service despite the airplane and automobile. Theirs are voices crying in a wilderness of despair.

The railroads won't be able to withdraw entirely from the passenger-carrying field in the years immediately ahead—public regulatory bodies won't let them. Yet the flight from the passenger field gathers momentum each year, almost each month.

Recent Moves

Railroad after railroad is cutting back on its service. Here are a few recent moves:

The New York Central is petitioning to end its passenger run between Indianapolis and St. Louis. The Baltimore and Ohio wants to withdraw from the Baltimore-New York run. The New Haven has cut off 20 trains between New York and Boston and New Haven and Springfield.

On Jan. 16 the Pennsylvania eliminated two trains between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Ten days later the Erie dropped two trains between Cleveland and Youngstown.

And so it goes all over the United States.

Number Dwindles

Herbert Conover, assistant manager of the Cincinnati terminal, sees fewer and fewer passenger trains pull through his station each year. The total now is 41 each day. "During the war years," he says, "100 trains arrived and departed this terminal each day."

In the first nine months of 1957, the latest period for which figures are available, passenger mileage on trains totaled 20,033,217.41, a stunning 43 per cent under the total of 35,190,414,669 in the same months of 1947.

In 1946 railroads handled 66.2 per cent of all for-hire intercity passenger mileage, buses 25.6 per cent, airlines 5.9 per cent and inland waterways 2.3 per cent. In 1956—latest figures—it was 36.1 per cent for the rails, 32.0 for the buses, 29.5 for the airlines and 2.4 per cent for inland waterways.

Figure Mounts

Intercity passenger traffic carried by private automobile in 1946 amounted to 253,570,000 passenger miles. In 1956 it was 617,700,000.

"There seems to be no way to influence a person who wants to fly to use the train, nor have we found a way to cause the automobile driver to use the train," says C. E. Peterson, vice president in charge of passenger traffic and public relations of the Southern Pacific.

The Southern Pacific spent 31 million dollars in the past three years on passenger cars for its San Francisco and San Jose commuter business. But, when a new highway was opened to clear a bottleneck, the SP lost 1,000 daily commuter passengers within a month.

Merger in Air

Merger is in the air for railroads. The biggest study now going on, of course, is that of the Pennsylvania and the New York Central, the two largest railroads from the standpoint of capitalization—but not profits.

With mergers, consolidations and abandonments the way out in intercity traffic, what will happen to commuter traffic?

Two approaches have come to the fore. One is offered by George Alpert, president of the New York, New Haven & Hartford.

Alpert wants some sort of subsidy for commuter business. He has asked the Massachusetts Legislature to set up a form of public authority which, in essence, would provide the subsidy. He has also advocated diversion of one per cent of public highway funds to subsidize commuter service.

Another tack has been taken by the New York Central which contends railroads should be treated as private enterprises and therefore get a return of six per cent on capital investment. In furtherance of this policy the Central's subsidiary, the Boston & Albany, has asked the Massachusetts Dept. of Public Utilities for permission to increase all fares on its Boston commuter service a flat 7½ cents, regardless of distance traveled.

RADIO-ACTIVE HOUSEWIFE—Radio research, household duties and farming chores are all part of a day's work for Mrs. Orton Newton, of Pharsalia, N.Y. The 50-acre Newton farm is dotted with microwave radio equipment, like the giant antenna which dwarfs the 59-year-old housewife-researcher at right. Mrs. Newton turns the transmitters on, left, by dialing combinations of numbers on a special dial exactly like one on a telephone. She receives her transmission orders from Holmdel, N.J., 171 miles away, where the radio signals are picked up at the Bell Telephone Laboratories' research installation. The project studies the nature of over-the-horizon microwave transmission, used for long-distance signals.

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Parents Must Believe Love Is Very Important to Child

The other day I wrote about a jealous little brother. He felt a desperate need to pry some of his mother's admiration away from his baby sister. Accordingly, he climbed up on the sofa to show her how he could straddle it back and ride it like a cowboy. He got a scolding instead of admiration. At once he turned from an excited and hopeful little boy into a spiteful and defiant one.

I said that his spitefulness was despair of his mother's love. You may not believe this. When, after speaking sharply to your child, you see him turn spiteful and defiant, you may not recognize the change as despair of your love. Instead, you'll think, "Jimmy's being nasty because he can't have his own way."

This is because you have such a poor opinion of yourself that you cannot credit your love with any importance to Jimmy.

Which is why child guidance experts can give us so little help. Though they are always telling us that our love for Jimmy is infinitely more important to him than getting his own way, we secretly regard the experts as sentimental softies.

Self-disparaging creatures that we are, we don't really believe our love is important to anyone. So when the spiteful change comes over Jimmy, it arouses discouragement and anger in us instead of the certainty that the love is needed.

Actually, our only real problem as parents is our poor opinion of ourselves.

This poor opinion is what makes our self-respect so dependent on Jimmy's conduct that we have to constantly pursue him for politeness, good school marks and other achievements that will reflect credit on us. It's what turns us into self-sacrificing martyrs who only come alive when somebody else tells them how noble they are.

It's what makes us into naggers who must diffuse their demands on Jimmy into vague, indirect complaints lest they offend him by making the demands direct and definite. Because our poor opinion of ourselves makes us uncomfortable with anything but perfect discipline of Jimmy, it makes it difficult to give him any discipline at all.

So when I said that the jealous little brother's spitefulness was despair of his mother's love, I bet you thought I was being sentimental, too.

Second

Haiti became an independent nation in 1804, making it the second independent nation in the New World, the United States being the first.

Protestants Form

was elected vice-president.

Other officers include:

Hubert M. Hoderath, director of vocational department of Kingston High School, and a member of Fair Street Reformed Church, as secretary.

Deweese W. DeWitt, executive secretary-treasurer of Home-Seekers' Savings and Loan Association, and a member of Old Dutch Church as treasurer.

George B. Matthews, a member of First Baptist Church and one of the 15 original committeemen, presented the slate of officers.

Five-Fold Purposes

The purposes of the Area Council of Churches are five-fold, including:

To make the voice of the Christian church felt in problem areas, be they social, economic or political.

To do for the churches such cooperative work as they authorize the Council to carry on in their behalf. This may include work in Christian education, Christian life and work, Christian missions, evangelism and stewardship, broadcasting and films and such other activities as may more effectively achieve the objectives of the Christian religion.

To develop a fundamental brotherhood and community of interest among Christians.

To study the religious needs of the community and devise plans to meet those needs.

To maintain fellowship and cooperation with other Councils of Churches throughout the world, that, by action of their highest constitutional authority, are in agreement with the Preamble of the Constitution.

The Preamble states:

In the Providence of God, the time has come when it seems fitting more fully to manifest our oneness in Jesus Christ as Divine Lord and Savior, by the creation of an inclusive cooperative agency of the Protestant Christian churches of the Kingston area.

Lauds Vice-President

Yates, a sub-contract manager of display system of the Kingston IBM plant, said in accepting the presidency, that it was the inspiration and faith which made up his mind. He saw the office and Council itself, he said, as a tremendous job but one that could be a success through the teamwork of all.

Yates lauded the election of the Rev. Mr. Stephanz as vice-president and said the Baptist pastor would make an ideal person to see that the Council remain alive and a growing one.

The Rev. Mr. Stephanz also spoke later and commended the men and women present for their interest in the formation of the Council of Churches. He added that he had personally worked with the Buffalo Council of Churches and cited some of the benefits to the community through the work of this vital organization.

Lists Potential Goals

President-elect Yates summarized a list of about 30 potential objectives for the organization, some of which included:

Institutional ministry, including bedside services for the sick, shut-ins, audio-visual educational program, auxiliary services including the coordination of activities between the United Church Women and the youth council, civic and social issues, inter-church recreation, public relations, which he pointed out would be to take the message of the Council to the public in a strict coordinated manner, special services including Reformation Sunday, World-Wide Communion, Easter Sunday, etc., summer vesper programs, mass choir festival and through discussions with area enforcement, health and civic officials of the everyday problem.

Member churches represented at last night's meeting were:

Dean Dykstra; Old Dutch, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool; Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, the Rev. David C. Gaise; Trinity Methodist, the Rev. Ralph Hughes; St. James Methodist, the Rev. ANNUAL AIRING—Sen. Lyndon Johnson, Senate Democratic leader, arrives at the White House for a state dinner sporting the high silk hat which he digs out of mothballs once a year. Johnson's staff panics at the yearly display, because as one of his advisers claims, "It would cost us 10,000 votes in Texas if a picture of him in that hat gets shown around back home." Mrs. Johnson (Lady Bird), who gave it to him 15 years ago, says, "Regardless of what everyone says, I love to see him in it."

Oil Firms Worried Drivers Cashing In on U.S.-Wide Gas Price War

NEW YORK (AP)—Budget-minded motorists are cashing in on the biggest epidemic of gasoline price wars since World War II.

It's an epidemic that stretches from New England into the Deep South—and from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

There's a suburb of Boston where you can drive up to a service station and fill your tank with 20 gallons of gasoline for less than $4. The retail price—19½ cents a gallon—includes 8½ cents in state and federal taxes. Normally you'd pay about 30 cents.

Cut-rate bargains in gasoline are available, too, in such widely separated areas as Springfield, Mass.; Hartford, Conn.; Providence, R. I.; Norfolk, Va.; Charlotte, N. C.; Dallas, Detroit, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and along the Puget Sound.

Free Competition

Oil company officials are worried. In localities where price war conditions are keen, major companies sell gasoline to their dealers at prices substantially below cost. Declares one harassed executive: "It's free competition at work, and I don't know where it's going to end."

Behind the rash of price wars are two factors: a huge buildup of supply and lower than expected demand.

"The general business recession is partly responsible," a New York marketing expert explains. "People are worried about layoffs and loss of overtime; they're watching their pennies. They're not driving around as much as they would if times were good."

New car sales are down sharply from a year ago and this, too, has kept gasoline consumption from rising as fast as in prior years. The trucking industry—another big user of gasoline—has shifted into second gear. With business off in many lines, there is less freight to be moved on the highways.

Over Capacity

But big buildup in gasoline supplies—inventories at late count totaled more than 8½ billion gallons—stem in part from the refining industry's massive expansion program. Since Korea, oil companies have spent billions on spanking new, super-efficient refining plants. Now they have more capacity than they can use.

When a refiner finds a big surplus of gasoline on his hands he can do one of two things: curtail output or "dump" the surplus at cut-rate prices. This dumping usually involves sale of the surplus gasoline to a small independent distributor who markets the fuel under his own brand name. Since he bought the gasoline more cheaply than his competitors who handle nationally advertised brands, he can afford to sell it at a lower price.

When this private brand gasoline appears on the market, competing retailers slash their prices too. Major companies that supply them are then compelled to grant fat discounts from the posted wholesale price so the retailer can meet the lower price of the competing private brand without going bankrupt. And before you know it, a full-scale war is on.

Prison Without Soup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—There was bad news today from the Allegheny County jail. Officials report the prison's soup kettle has gone to pot.

Warden Grant F. Price asked the county commissioners to appropriate $1,425 for a new 100-gallon model. The old one, he said, has developed leaks after 50 years of service.

Filter Center To Expand Air Defense Area

Headquarters, Eastern Air Defense Force at Stewart Air Force Base, announced today that the Albany Air Defense Filter Center will assume full responsibility for operation of the areas formerly controlled by filter centers at New Haven, Conn., and Manchester, N. H., on March 1.

Continuing improvements in electronic air surveillance have enabled the U. S. Air Force's Air Defense Command to fulfill its promise of streamlining and tightening the Ground Observer Corps organizational structure which accounts for the merge.

The area over which Albany now has jurisdiction extends westward from the Atlantic Ocean to a point just east of Utica, and northward from New York City for a distance of approximately 275 miles. It encompasses the greater portions of New Hampshire, Vermont and New York, all of Massachusetts, Connecticut and Rhode Island and a small section of Maine for a total accumulation of 43,750 square miles. In this section of the country are nearly 15,000 volunteer members of the Ground Observer Corps who will now be reporting aircraft to Albany.

Brigadier General Arthur C. Agan Jr., commander of the 26th Air Division (defense), whose air defense responsibility covers the northeastern United States from Delaware to Maine, expressed the gratitude of the Air Force for the invaluable contributions of the volunteers of the New Haven and Manchester Filter Centers during their operations and stated that he felt they would continue their work in the same distinguished manner under the Albany Filter Center.

Cheap Freight?

Before the introduction of railroads, it cost 20 to 25 cents per ton-mile to move freight overland. It cost about $100 to move a ton of freight from New York City to Buffalo, a distance of about 425 miles.

Burke-Johnson Nuptials Are Announced; Double Ring Ceremony Held in Veteran

Miss Frances Mary Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Burke of Blue Mountain, Town of Saugerties, was united in marriage to William Harry Johnson of Palenville, son of Mrs. Adeline Krom of 110 West Bridge Street, Saugerties, Saturday, Feb. 1, at 2 p. m. in St. John's Church, Veteran.

The Rev. Daniel H. Daley, pastor of St. John's Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

For the occasion the sanctuary was decorated with white gladioli.

Mrs. Frank Ruddy, soloist, sang appropriate nuptial refrains to the accompaniment of Mrs. Frances Knuth, organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a waltz length gown of Alencon lace and tulle. Her headpiece consisted of a pearl crown which secured a fingertip veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of Lily of the Valley and white roses.

Sister of the bride, Miss Mary K. Burke of Blue Mountain wore a waltz length gown of Nile and Kelly green taffeta and carried a bouquet of Tailsman roses.

The best man was Arthur Stafford of Jane Street, Saugerties and the ushers included Merwin Gillispy and Lowell Miller, both of Saugerties.

Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held at St. John's Hall, Veteran.

For the wedding journey to New York City, the bride chose as her traveling ensemble a blue suit with grey accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at Pine Grove, Town of Saugerties.

The bride, a 1956 graduate of Saugerties Central High School, is employed as an accounting clerk at Ferroxcube Corporation, Saugerties.

The bridegroom, educated in Saugerties schools, served with the Navy for four years and received his honorable discharge April 1957.

He is employed with Kerbert Plumbing and Heating, Saugerties.

Mothers' Society
St. Peter's Christian Mothers' Society will meet Monday, Feb. 10, at 8 p. m. in the school hall on Adams Street. Members are asked to note change in the meeting night. Communion Sunday will be observed on the third Sunday of the month.

EVENING DRESS FOR HIM, AND FOR HER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am a daily reader of your column and find your answers most helpful. However, two of your recent answers seem to contradict each other and I am confused. In answer to one reader who asked whether she could wear an afternoon dress to a semi-public dinner to which her husband was wearing a tuxedo, you said that an afternoon dress would be suitable with a tuxedo, but not with a tail coat. Several weeks later in answer to another reader who asked whether she could wear an evening dress and her fiancé a dark blue business suit to a dance, you said that a woman in evening clothes and a man in day clothes was not proper. I would like to know why this mixture of day and evening clothes is correct for one and not the other. I would very much appreciate your clearing up this point for me.

Answer: For a man to change into a tuxedo before accompanying a woman in the evening, whether she is in evening or day dress, is a compliment to her. But for him to be in a business suit and she in an evening dress is quite the opposite. It seems to say, "Oh, I don't think she is worth the trouble of my dressing for, even though she goes to that much effort for me."

Waving to a Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to wave? More specifically, if one should happen to see a friend who is walking on the street, is it proper to wave "hello" to that person? Someone has said that it is very undignified and therefore in bad taste.

Answer: The "undignified" behavior might result if you attempted to attract a friend's attention across a busy street if she was not even looking your way. Otherwise, there is nothing unnatural for two friends who see each other at a distance to wave a "hello." A man would, of course, lift his hat to greet a woman friend.

Do you have difficulty finding words to introduce your family and friends? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However leaflet E-17, "Introductions," describes what to say when introducing and how to answer. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Officers and Trustees of Children's Home Are Named at Annual Meeting; Reports Told

Mrs. George N. Shivery was elected president of the Children's Home at its 81st annual meeting held this week.

Also elected to serve were Mrs. Lloyd R. LeFever, first vice-president; Mrs. Sherwood Davis, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert Umpleby, recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Walden, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George L. Chilson, treasurer; Mrs. Hugh R. Elwyn, assistant treasurer.

The meeting was well attended by Board members and trustees.

Appointed as trustees were the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, George B. Matthews, Clifford Miller, Herbert Myers, Alfred Schmid, A. B. Shufeldt, J. R. Shults, Judge John B. Sterley and Edwin Strong.

Annual reports were given by the committee chairmen among whom were included Mrs. Sherwood Davis, house and grounds; Mrs. Frederic Holcomb, personnel; Mrs. Larry Bogert, children's committee; Mrs. Louis Keger, Stanbrough committee; Mrs. John R. Shults, finance committee; Mrs. George Schneider, treasurer's report.

Director Gives Report

In his report to the president, members of the Board of managers and trustees, Gerald E. Shampo, executive director of the Children's Home reported on its progress and future plans.

Mr. Shampo's report follows: "The year 1957 closes out 81 years of effective service in behalf of dependent children, but in closing out this time period we have passed on the desire to increase our services, make our program more effective, and to more diligently seek out the needs of the individual child.

"My administration began in 1954. This was also the beginning of a determined effort to completely change the physical structure of the Home, to make it a warm and cheerful place and to make more comfortable and practical the living quarters for both staff and children.

"In 1954 the woodworking shop was added to our program, which through the years has not yet fulfilled its full potential. We have made definite plans this year to make use of this potential.

New Improvements

"The interior of the main building, was redecorated in 1955, stairs and hallways recovered with linoleum.

"The year 1956 saw the completion of the new rooms for the senior group on the second floor. This renovation also provided a lounge room for them.

"The third floor was transformed into a compact and practical auditorium where we may now assemble the entire group for meetings, movies and recreation.

"This brief resume does not include the many needed and practical pieces of equipment that were also purchased such as our new refrigerator which replaced our 40-year-old ice box. This will however give you an idea that we are progressing slowly.

"1957 began with an eye to bringing the quarters of our junior group up to a par with the senior boys' and girls' areas.

"The entire area was redecorated with a rich warm color and the old dilapidated beds were passed to the scrap yard where they assumed a new degree of importance as junk. New beds and mattresses were then purchased.

Local Groups Assist

"The Kingston Kiwanis Club demonstrated their willingness to serve by coming in and tiling the entire floor area. The complete job was done by the members themselves.

"The Kingston Lions Club presented our juniors with a new television set, making it possible for them to have entertainment in their own area.

"The Cub Pack group from St. John's Church, Kingston, contributed two fine floor lamps which further served to make this area more homelike.

"This area is now fairly complete with the exception of bureaus, which must be purchased when adequate funds are available.

One addition was made this year to our girls' cottage. It was in the form of a contribution by the United Firemen's Association. "This gift was a new automatic cabinet sewing machine, and certainly fulfilled the desires of every girl in having something they might mend with and also the means of create.

Staff Quarters

"It was also very evident that we would have to give considerable attention to our staff quarters if we were to succeed in attracting qualified staff. The existing quarters were redecorated, so-called pieces of furniture were replaced, giving them new beds, mattresses, bureaus, chairs and lamps.

"The areas were also arranged so that they might have access to a reception room where they are now able to entertain their visiting friends.

"The completion of our reception room on the ground floor has provided a comfortable private area where our youngsters may receive their friends and families. The furniture for this area was provided by the Electro Corporation.

"Because of the kind consideration of Arace Appliances of this city, we were able to replace our old troublesome washing machine with a new automatic model and included with it a much needed dryer.

Plan Expansion

"I pointed out in my 1956 report that we were hoping to be able to cover the roof on the main structure of the Home. This was done, alleviating the many hours of worry over leaks. "In closing out this phase of my report I would like to say that we have made definite plans to expand our facilities, that we might be able to care for a greater number of children.

"The IBM employees of the Kingston plant have helped to make the initial plans possible by their gift of $3,500. The entire project will run in the neighborhood of $10,000-$12,000. The various departments in the IBM Corporation have been extremely kind to our organization and we are happy and pleased with their enthusiasm.

"I would like now to talk about our children.

Welfare of Children

"This past year we have served some 32 children in our program. We have discharged six and admitted six. Two of our number have joined the United States Air Force and are progressing rapidly in rank. It was nice to have one back "home" again for his furlough. In 1956 I noted that one of our boys had graduated at the top of his class at Great Lakes Naval Academy in the field of electronics. He too came back "home" for a short visit this year.

"It was a happy occasion for me to attend for the first time the wedding of one of our former youngsters. Another former graduate of the Home was also married during this year. We are glad to say that both families are extremely happy and doing well.

"Since 1954 the emphasis on the educational phase of our program has paid wonderful dividends. Every year since then we have had one or two in the Kingston High School graduating class, and 1957 was no exception with two of our group achieving the honors.

"I might add this comment that I have just completed conferences with all of the teachers of our group from the elementary to the Junior High School level and the reports received have been the best that I have had since arriving at the Children's Home.

"It is also noteworthy that our youngsters are very active in the extra curricular activities of the school, two of our group participating in the choir trip to South Carolina.

"Four of our number joined the Kingston High School track team. One of these members achieved track prominence by his record breaking performance. It has been aptly said that he is Kingston's greatest track star. Two of our group have also been active as managers for the basketball team.

"We have in our group one of the better swimmers in the community in his age bracket. Each year he has taken first place honors in the swimming meets at the Kingston Point.

stitution are a credit to your sacrifices.

"To the Board of Managers I can only repeat my past feelings concerning you. Your kindness and careful consideration of all our problems has been wonderful. Your willingness to help out in every emergency has served to eliminate any feeling of discouragement.

I thank you and all the trustees, and may 1958 be another year equally as satisfying as 1957."

President's Report Given

In her report to the officers and trustees, Mrs. George N. Shivery, president, said the following:

"I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Board of Managers and my committee chairmen for their excellent cooperation during the past year. When emergencies have arisen it has been necessary from time to time to call special meetings. You have given your time generously and willingly. We have had the privilege of seeing small children, through guidance and understanding, develop into worthwhile young adults. This, I feel, is most rewarding for our time and effort.

"This September, we have one young man from the Home eligible to enter college. It is gratifying to know he will not be denied this opportunity. We are deeply grateful to the late Jane E. Stanbrough, who through her interest in underprivileged children bequeathed a fund to the Children's Home known as the Edward M. Stanbrough Fund. At this time I feel appreciation should be expressed once again to Dr. Frederic Holcomb for his efficient and successful management of this fund during the period he served as trustee.

Director's Work Lauded

"Words seem almost inadequate in expressing appreciation to our director, Mr. Shampo. We, the Board, know the Home and the children are his primary interest and consideration. He has the respect of every child because of his sincerity and fairness. They know he is their friend. At times Mr. Shampo goes far beyond the measure of human endurance insofar as working hours are concerned.

"To you, Mr. Shampo, we are most grateful.

"Whenever an emergency exists Mrs. Shampo has never failed to come to our aid. During the recent Asian flu epidemic she rendered service willingly and without being asked. Without her, I shudder to think of how we could have managed. We sincerely hope Mr. and Mrs. Shampo will make the Children's Home their home for a long time.

"The Board of Managers is deeply grateful to Messrs. Lloyd LeFever, Hugh Elwyn and Arthur W. Patterson for the services they have rendered the Home.

"To the Ulster County Shrine Club, again we say "thank you" for your interest in our children and their needs. We deeply appreciate all you do and we hope this effort on your part will continue.

Community is Thanked

"As president, and on behalf of the Board of Managers, I wish to thank the IBM Club of Kingston for their wonderful financial gift to our Home. We are sincerely grateful and this gift will be used as you specified.

"To our many friends in Ulster County and vicinity, I wish to say thank you. Throughout the year we have been remembered with gifts of food, clothing, money and many other gifts too numerous to mention. Your help is sincerely appreciated and we hope you will continue to remember us.

"There is still a great deal to be accomplished. The Home must grow in order to serve this growing community. By continued effort and active interest of the Board of Managers, I know this year will be a successful one."

Boy Scout News

Troop 12

Troop 12, sponsored by the Old Dutch Church and under the direction of Ralph Shapiro, Scoutmaster, carried on an ambitious scouting program for January.

The first weekend in January 19 Scouts, one leader and two committeemen braved the winter weather at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett. While temperatures dropped as low as 10-15 degrees below zero, the scouts took a winter survival hike to learn methods of staying alive in the out-of-doors. This was followed by a demonstration of various heating and cooking fires put on by the leaders. Ice skating on Kay-Bee Lake was excellent according to all. Sunday morning Protestant Church services were conducted by Scouts, Jerry Sampson and Jerry Blair as part of their requirements for the God and Country Award. Sunday afternoon the scouts returned to Kingston.

Sunday, Jan. 12 the officers of the Troop 12 Drum Corps attended the Hudson Valley Drum Corps Association meeting in Newburgh. This was highlighted by a turkey dinner.

Wednesday, Jan. 15, the Explorers of the Troop met with the Senior Girl Scouts, Troop 90, sponsored by Kingston High School under the leadership of Mrs. Greenspan, for a Coed Activities Planning Meeting.

Friday, Jan. 17, the Explorers and the Senior Girl Scouts held a coed roller skating party at Spring Lake.

Jan. 20 and 27 dancing lessons were conducted by the Explorers and Senior Girl Scouts.

Tuesday, Jan. 21, all Troop 12 patrol leaders started a Green Bar Patrol training course consisting of six sessions.

Thursday, Jan. 23, a troop leaders meeting was held at the Old Dutch Church to plan the activities for the coming month. Saturday, Jan. 25, the Explorers and Senior Girl Scouts held a roller skating party at the Cornell Street Roller Rink.

Sunday, Jan. 26, 7:30 a. m. the Explorers left for the Roxbury Ski Center for a day of skiing. Six Explorers and two leaders participated.

Troop 12 meets every Tuesday night at 7 p. m. All interested boys are invited to attend. Plans are being made to reorganize the Drum Corps in the next few weeks.

Rosary Society Holds Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of St. Mary's Rosary Society was held Monday, Feb. 3 in the school hall. A slide lecture on Venezuela was presented by Joseph Conroy of the Fugazy Travel Bureau.

Final plans were made for the covered dish supper which will be held Tuesday, Feb. 11 in the school hall. Mrs. Francis Gallagher, who is chairman for this event, may be contacted for further details. Secret Pal gifts will be exchanged at the supper and a social hour.

Mrs. Samuel Clausi was appointed chairman for the annual cake and apron sale which will be held on Palm Sunday, March 30.

Members are requested to make note of the fact that starting in March, the Rosary Society will attend the 7 o'clock Mass on the first Sunday of the month instead of the 8 o'clock Mass as in the past.

In 1752 Benjamin Franklin succeeded in his famous experiment of flying a kite in a thunderstorm and sending a charge of lightning-generated electricity into a Leyden Jar.

Tax Suit Disclosed

NEW YORK (AP)—A government civil tax action against Walter Jewell, of Plattsburgh, N. Y., attle raiser and Clinton County Democratic chairman, was disclosed yesterday.

The government is seeking $83.31 in income taxes and penalties or 1940 through 1952.

Walt Mandry, assistant regional counsel of the Internal Revenue Service, quoted Newell as saying he was unfamiliar with tax form intricacies, therefore hired an accountant to make out his returns, and has assumed that they were correct.

Mandry further quoted Newell as saying that while he had believed the returns were correct and properly filed, he learned after the accountant's death that the returns for 1950, 1951 and 1952 were not filed.

Sodium Fluoridate

Use Cut Tooth Decay

CHICAGO (AP)—A Pittsburgh dental specialist reported today that continuous use of a sodium fluoride mouthwash reduced tooth decay among a group of children from 80 to 90 per cent.

Dr. Walter S. Weisz won the annual research award contest of the Chicago Dental Society for his report.

He divided the tested children of ages 5-6 and 8-9 into treatment and non-treatment comparison groups. The treated group of 22 children and the control group of 60 children were observed from 2 to 10 years.

Summarizing the study, he said, "It is reasonable to say that the

NEW YORK (AP)—John Osborne, author of "Look Back in Anger," is looking forward now to his first stage musical.

In a certain village in South Kilkenny there is a house, the door of which must be raised a little to be opened, and for this purpose the hatchet is generally used. One night a knock was heard at the door, and a boy was sent to know who was there. Youngster--Who's there? Person Outside--It's me. The youngster, knowing the voice, shouted back in such a tone that the person outside could hear him: Youngster--Oh, mother, it's

Mrs. Murphy; get the hatchet. Needless to say, Mrs. Murphy didn't wait.

A boyish looking Presbyterian minister, who was serving his first mission in the hills of Kentucky, noticed that one of his faithful parishioners had been absent from services several Sundays in a row, so he decided to go see her and ask her why. She shook her head and looked at him pityingly. "Son," she said, "you ain't old enough to have sinned enough to have repented enough to be able to preach about it."

The fellow who says "money isn't everything" always seems to have more than he needs. A little old Lady stood at a box office of a large New York movie house. Old Lady (to cashier)--Is it really $1.80? Cashier--Yes, Madam. There's a very wide screen. Old Lady--Is it a good picture? Cashier--Oh, yes, Madam. It's 3D and there's Stereophonic Sound. Old Lady--What is it about? Cashier (a little impatiently)--A doctor. Old Lady--$1.80. Tell me this, at these prices, is he at least a specialist.

PLATTEKILL — The meeting of the Plattekill Grange, scheduled for Saturday evening, Jan. 25, was postponed to Saturday evening, Feb. 8, owing to unfavorable weather conditions. Featured on the agricultural program, planned for the meeting, will be discussions and predictions of farming in the Rockland Area. The first in a series of card and game parties, sponsored by the service and hospitality committee of the Grange, was held Saturday evening at the hall, and was well attended.

Members of the Plattekill Fire Department will conduct a penny sale at the firehouse on Friday, Feb. 14. Proceeds will be added to the building fund. Frank Ruggiero is chairman of general arrangements.

The Rev. George Fumival, pastor of the Plattekill-Rossville Methodist Churches, is attending the annual Methodist Ministers Retreat at Buckhill Falls, Pa.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Margaret A. Markle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elting Markle of Kerhonkson, to Joseph A. Corso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Corso of Newburgh, formerly of Plattekill. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Corso lived for many years on the farm purchased from the late Egbert S. Fowler, in the Tuckers Corners section.

AMERICAN MENU

Canned Peas Are Abundant, Combine Well With Meats

BY GAYNOR MADDON,

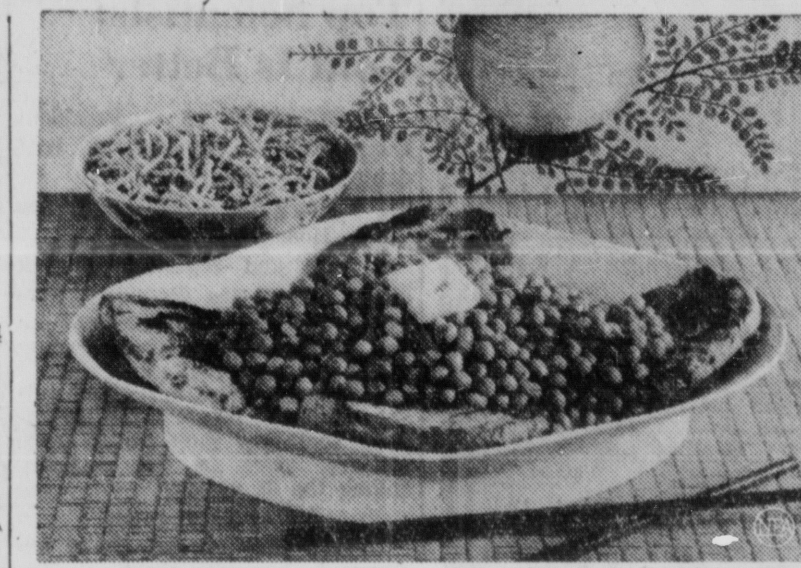

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Canned peas are good food and should be available now at a very reasonable price. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports there are enormous supplies on hand. So let's help eat down that oversupply, if the canners make the price attractive. Peas and Pork Chops Oriental (Yield: 4 servings)

One can (1 pound) peas, 4 loin pork chops, cut 1 inch thick, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, ½ teaspoon soy sauce, OR ¼ teaspoon salt.

Drain liquid from peas; reserve. Trim fat from chops. Heat in skillet until enough fat cooks out to prevent chops from sticking; discard. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper. Cook until brown on both sides (about 20 minutes). Pour off fat. Add half the reserved pea liquid; cover tightly and simmer until chops are tender (about 50-60 minutes). When chops are turned, add onion. About 10 minutes before chops are done, add drained peas, remaining pea liquid and soy sauce or salt. Cover and simmer 10 minutes longer. Serve with fried Chinese noodles.

Chicken, Peas and Rice Dinner (Yield: 6 servings)
One 3-pound chicken, cut up, 1 cup evaporated milk, ¾ cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 can (1 pound) peas, 3 cups hot cooked rice. Put chicken in bowl; pour evaporated milk over chicken. Chill 2 hours. Combine ½ cup of the flour, 1 teaspoon of the salt and ¼ teaspoon of the pepper. Remove chicken from evaporated milk; reserve evaporated milk for gravy. Roll chicken in flour mixture. Brown in hot fat about ½ inch deep in skillet about 45 minutes or until tender. While chicken is frying, drain peas; add enough liquid to evaporated milk to make 2 cups; reserve. When chicken is cooked, remove from skillet and put in a warm place.

CANNED PEAS are plentiful and especially good cooked with meats. Here they're served with pork chops, Oriental style.

dress and grapefruit salad, lemon sherbet, almond cookies, coffee, tea, milk.

WALLKILL NEWS

Lions Club Donates $200 to Local Library

WALLKILL — The Wallkill Lions Club at its regular dinner meeting recently voted to donate $200 to the Wallkill Public Library for the purchase of new books. Matched by the state with an equal amount, together with a regular discount given to the Library Association, new books valued at $500 will be added to the present library shelves.

The money donated represented a sum netted on the recently sponsored Footlight Club Play, "Picnic," as well as at other club activities.

Guest speaker of the evening was Julius Hoyt, a member of the Wallkill School Board, who presented the views and the aims of the Board of Education on the proposed new million dollar bond issue for the new schools which was subsequently voted upon Friday and passed.

Howard J. Smith, a local real estate dealer, was inducted into membership with Ralph Luks presenting the pin and the indoctrination charge.

The second meeting in March will be set aside for Lion wives to attend with their husbands and to take part in the regular business session of the club.

Ralph Luks, a club member and formerly a make-up man with MGM Studios in Hollywood for Max Factor, will be speaker of the evening.

A vote of thanks was given to the Wallkill Fire Department for its cooperation in the ice skating program, and to Dr. C. J. Hoyt, owner of the Hatch Pond.

Town Notes
"Wake up and Read," a nationwide program to promote reading for fun, knowledge and advancement, will be participated in by the Wallkill area. Mrs. Dorothy Lilley, librarian for the Wallkill Central School, pointed out that this first national reading program will culminate in National Library Week, March 16 through 22.

Winning pictures from the 12th Annual National High School Photographic Contest were on display at the Valley National Bank, Wallkill, recently. The contest was sponsored by Eastman Kodak.

Two Local Scouts Will Receive Church Awards
WALLKILL — At a meeting before their church's Consistory with a ministerial district representative of their Scout Council present, two Boy Scouts of Troop 76 here passed their requirements for their God and Country Church Awards recently.

The youths, Jay McClung and Edward D. Seely, are the first of their church and their troop to receive these awards. They are the first in the past seven years to gain them in the Southern District of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Inc.

Young McClung and Seely have been in training for this church award for about two years under the guidance of the Rev. Walter N. Van Popering, pastor of the Wallkill Reformed Church and leader of the Scout Troops Explorer Post.

The boys performed requirements of regular Sunday school and church attendance, church service projects over a specific period, extensive Biblical memorizations, and training in Christian faith, fitness, citizenship and fellowship.

At the review meeting, the youths were interrogated by the consistory and the Scout Council's representative, the Rev. Willett Porter, pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Church, who complimented them upon their attainments.

Both young men are members of the Wallkill Reformed Church and are active in its youth functions.

First Class Scout McClung is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McClung, Second Street, Wallkill. He is president of the senior class at Wallkill Central School, president of the Student Council, a member of the Shawangunk Chapter of the National Honor Society and an officer in the Hugh Bull Post, Order of DeMolay, Walden. Last year McClung was a local representative at Boys' State.

Young Seely, who recently was passed by an Executive Eagle Board of Review in Kingston, will receive that award at a Troop 76 Court of Honor here Feb. 12.

He is junior assistant scoutmaster of Troop 76, attended the National Scout Jamboree last summer at Valley Forge where he was chosen patrol leader of a Syracuse troop to which he was assigned. There he also was a member of the Protestant choir and winner of an achievement award.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Seely, young Seely is a junior at Wallkill Central, is editor of the Blue and White, the school's publication. He also is a member of Hugh Bull Post Order of DeMolay and Half Moon Lodge, Order of the Arrow.

The youth, his parents and his scoutmaster, Edmund P. Walther, Wallkill, were guests of the Rip Van Winkle Council at a dinner in the Governor Clinton Hotel prior to the Eagle Board of Review.

The boys will receive their medals at a formal church ceremony in the Wallkill Reformed Church on Scout Sunday, Feb. 9.

Weak Two Bid Almost Works

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The so-called weak two bid is popular with most tournament players. Normally the bid is made to show a hand with a good six-card suit that is just below an opening bid in high-card strength. Thus a classic example of a weak two bid is six spades to the king-queen-ten and a side ace.

West's two-heart bid with today's hand is not recommended. It is far too weak. When used in a recent duplicate it almost worked. North passed and East raised to three but South refused to be shut out. He doubled.

North bid four hearts. He thought there might be a slam. South didn't like anything but couldn't pass. He finally bid four spades on his three-card suit.

West opened the king of hearts. South won with dummy's ace and led a spade. East played low and South was delighted to find that his ten held the trick.

South shot back the jack of hearts and West was in again. This time West led a low club. Dummy played the queen and South won East's king with the ace. South laid down the ace of spades and when both opponents followed, he decided to play safe for his contract by simply running diamonds. He could have made five odd by leading a third spade but if East had shown up with four trumps South would have been set badly.

It turned out that South's judgment was as good as his bidding had been lucky. At all other tables West passed originally and North and South played the hand at no-trump, making three or in diamonds making five.

The plus 620 for four spades was a top score.

FOR THE INDIGENT SICK—One of the world's largest, and probably the most advanced hospital for the treatment of indigent sick, the Allegheny County Hospital, eight miles from downtown Pittsburgh, will soon be ready to receive patients. The 22-million-dollar project, which will provide beds for 2,400 patients, stands on a park-like 126-acre plateau. The main building, right, has eight stories, and two convalescent wings of three stories each. Special wards for ambulatory patients are located in building at left. Contributing to the patients' spiritual health while hospitalized is the pyramid-like interdenominational church, left center.

President Greet Top Scientists; Cold Is Better

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower didn't let a cold dampen a coming out party for the nation's top scientists at the White House last night.

Smiling and reporting he felt much better, the President presided with Mrs. Eisenhower at the first state dinner to which leading scientists were invited.

Although it was actually a science-military dinner, the scientists, including four Nobel prize winners, were in the majority among the 98 guests.

Air of Excitement

There was a special air of excitement because most of the guests had never been to a glittering White House formal affair and because while the dinner was under way the Navy was trying to launch its Vanguard rocket.

Some three hours after the guests had left the White House the Vanguard fizzled again.

Vanguard project director John P. Hagen drank a toast in champagne "Here's to our baby," and then stayed up to await word from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The President had greeted both Hagen and Werner von Braun, designer of the Army rocket that launched the Explorer satellite.

The President sipped champagne and showed little sign of discomfort from the slight cold and sore throat which first had been reported at a late afternoon White House press conference.

He told a newspaperwoman: "This afternoon I thought I might have to quit and go to bed, but tonight I feel much better."

Predicts Moon Trip

The whole evening was a success as far as the scientists and their wives were concerned.

Von Braun, accompanied by his attractive blonde wife, was in an expansive mood as he predicted "We'll be on the moon and back in 10 years."

Mrs. Von Braun was asked if waiting for the Explorer to be launched was like waiting for a baby to be born. She quipped: "Like waiting for one 25 years."

Two Drivers Fined, One Suspended Term

Two Kingston men arrested for traffic violations by Kingston Police, were fined, one also received a 60-day suspended jail sentence in City Court this morning before Special City Judge John J. Schick.

Frank R. Castiglione, 21, of 33 Valentine Avenue, arrested last night for reckless driving on Broadway between Downs and Albany Avenue, was fined $50 and given a 60-day jail sentence which was suspended pending good behavior. The charge was for speeding 50 MPH on Broadway and cutting off a bus. Officer James Steinhaber made the arrest.

Anton Niterbuhl, 41, of 133 Pine Grove Avenue, arrested at 12:53 this morning for speeding 50 MPH on Broadway was fined $10. The arresting officers were Frank Stip and Edward Leonard.

'Base Metals'

The term "base metals" is used to describe common metals, such as nickel, copper and chromium, as distinguished from precious metals, which are gold, iridium, osmium, platinum, palladium, rhodium, ruthenium and silver.

Matter of FACT

On June 14, 1777, when the Continental Congress approved the design of the Flag of the United States, the idea of a national flag was still very new. Most European nations at the time used the flags of their kings. However, the flag of Denmark was adopted in 1219 and that of Switzerland in 1339. After the United States chose a national flag, many other nations followed suit.

Timid Beginning
NEW YORK (AP)—Art Carney started his acting career as a lonesome entertainer. "I was too shy to go out for the high school drama society," admits the longtime television comic who is now starring in the Broadway drama, "The Rope Dancers." "Because of my timidity, I began developing solo stuff." His talent at imitations finally won Carney a break in show business and, he adds, "gradually I got over the shyness."

Senate Approves Seaway Tolls Plan

ALBANY (AP)—A resolution calling for St. Lawrence Seaway tolls set at a level that would pay for the waterway in 50 years—a comparatively short length of time—has won unanimous Senate approval.

To pay for the huge project in 50 years would mean relatively high tolls.

The resolution, apparently spawned out of fear of the Seaway's effect on the port of New York, was sponsored yesterday by Republican Sen. Walter Van Wigeren of Herkimer, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Commerce and Economic Development.

The Assembly sent to the rules committee a companion measure submitted by the vice chairman, Donald A. Campbell, Montgomery County Republican.

The United States and Canada are negotiating over the level of the Seaway tolls.

The Van Wigeren-Campbell resolution said the Port of New York, with 430,000 jobs and 2 billion dollars in annual wages, was important to the state's economy.

Lowering St. Lawrence tolls, they said, "would amount to a subsidy to out-of-state areas at the expense of taxpayers of New York and other states and to the detriment of eastern ports, particularly the Port of New York

Peron Abandons Blank Ballot Call

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Juan D. Peron has abandoned demands that his followers in Argentina cast blank ballots in the Feb. 23 elections. He urged them to vote for any candidate opposing the present regime.

The ex-dictator made the announcement in an interview yesterday at his quarters in the Hotel Jaragua. He flew from Venezuela to the Dominican Republic, which is ruled by dictator Rafael Trujillo, after the Venezuelans kicked out dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Confident of Vote

Peron said he had ordered his Peronista movement "not to enter any candidates in the election and not to vote en blanco." He added:

"We are freeing our people to vote in any form they consider best to fight against Argentine tyranny and to express their contempt for politics followed in (Argentina's) political, social and economic affairs." He voiced confidence the Argentine vote would destroy the "continuing plans for tyranny."

Peron's supporters cast more than two million blanks—just over a fourth of the votes—in the election of a constituent assembly last July.

The election Feb. 23 will choose 466 presidential electors who will name Argentina's new president and vice president March 31. Members of Peron's former regime and of Argentina's present provisional government are barred from running.

Denies Vote Deal

Peron endorsed no candidate specifically and denied reports of an agreement to swing Peronista support to Nationalist candidate Arturo Frondizi in return for a mission for him to return to Argentina.

However, the ex-dictator's statement could be a boost to Frondizi, who has campaigned vigorously to win the support of Peron's followers and who outspokenly opposes the present government.

Peron denied that he had taken any part in Venezuela's political affairs and said he had never talked with Perez Jimenez in Caracas.

He said he had not seen the ousted leader since he came here, but acknowledged he might drop over some day and call on Perez Jimenez at the Ambassador Hotel, about a mile away.

Peron said he had not asked for a visa to go to the United States "but that's always possible." Asked about his hopes for eventual return to Argentina, Peron smilingly replied that also depended on developments.

Would Cut Charges On Installment Buys

ALBANY (AP)—Gov. Harriman today called for sharp cuts on insurance charges that consumers have to pay on installment purchases.

The recommendation was a key point in a consumer-protection program Harriman submitted to the Legislature in a special message.

The plan was drafted by his consumer counsel, Dr. Persia Campbell, Insurance Superintendent Leffert Holz and Banks Superintendent George A. Mooney.

The report noted that insurance charges could run from $7 to $13 per $100 a year for coverage on motor vehicles, depending on the age of the car. On other goods, insurance can be financed at $10 per $100 annually.

These charges, the report said, are too high and should not exceed $6 per $100, the same rate allowed personal loan departments of banks.

Kingston Breaks Three-Year Poughkeepsie Jinx, Wins 89-74

WHIZZING BY—Brilliant George Uhl displays some of his fancy dribbling ability as he is about to speed by Poughkeepsie's Dick DeFew in last night's DUSO contest in the field house. Maroons John Kelly is in pursuit.

Scheffel Nets 47 as Wimpy's Romp, 92-53, Angels, Car Wash Score

Ronnie Scheffel, Kingston's best cager, dunked 47 points last night to lead his Wimpy's 1 team to an overwhelming 92 to 53 victory over Boulevard Gulf in the YMCA League. Other results: Minute Car Wash 57, Balotin R/X 51; Harry's Angels 55, Caruso's Insurance 37.

Scheffel was in rare form as he threw baskets in from all angles for one of his season's high totals. Most of his points were garnered in the second half when Wimpy's caged 59 points. They led at halftime, 33 to 24. Leonard had 15 and the Smith boys combined for 25 points. Nagele led the oilmen's scoring with 15. Krueger had 14 and the remaining three had eight apiece. Harry's Angels got back to their winning track after their only setback two weeks ago. There was no doubt about this one as the league leaders took an early lead and held on. Andy Juhl connected for 21 points to lead the scoring. Phil DeCicco had 14 for the insurance men.

The Washmen held on to a slim lead to outpoint Balotin in the best game of the night. Williams and Smith hit with consistency for the winners, while Brown was the game's top scorer with 23 points. Dallao had 14. Car Wash had a 27-20 halftime lead and 39-36 at the third quarter.

Marlboro KO'd By St. Pat's, Newburgh 63-52

St. Patrick's of Newburgh came up with two big middle periods last night which spelled defeat for Marlboro High, 63-52, in a non-league fray on the Ulster County court.

The Cashmen got off to a poor start, scoring only five points, as they trailed 15-5 at the quarter mark. That early advantage was too much for the UCAL quintet to overcome as they played the strong 'Burch squad on even terms in the second period and outscored them 15-8 in the final stanza.

Doug Swartz was the big scorer for the losers with 17. Fran Fino and Darryl Eckert each tallied 12. Dan Van Wagen scored 16 for the Saints, followed by Burns' 10.

In a junior varsity thriller, St. Patrick's eked out a 39-37 win. Bryan had 17 for Marlboro and Heinlein caged 15 for the winners.

George Uhl, Bob Short Spearhead 9th Victory

By TONY CORAPI
Freeman Sports Staff

Kingston High gained revenge for an earlier season setback by Poughkeepsie by pounding out a convincing 89 to 74 victory in the Kate Walton field house last night to take over third place in the DUSO League.

The victory for the Maroons was the first for Coach Jack Gilligan over the Pioneers since he took over the coaching reins three years ago. This bolsters the team's record to 7-3 in the league and 9-3 overall, while the Bridge City quintet is 5-4 in DUSO play.

It looked for a while that Coach Sam Kallock would continue his mastery over the Maroons, but it wasn't in the cards. The Gilliganmen displayed their best brand of ball since the second half got underway and perhaps their sharpest performance of the season.

Fouls Galore
Although hampered by a bevy of fouls which put three of its starters on the alert with four in the first half, the locals sparked by George Uhl and a couple of sophomores, John Kelly and Bob Short, came through in elegant fashion to make that sixth game of the Pioneer series during Gilligan's regime, his sweetest win of the season.

Fouls were called as if they were going out of style. Joe Klonowski got the hook in the fourth quarter, a big loss, but Kelly wasn't quite so fortunate. He was out of it shortly after the third period got underway. Armstrong, however, managed to keep away from opposing players and weathered the storm. And it is a good thing he did, because he was the game's big rebounder with 17, most of them in the crucial fourth period when possession meant everything. Bob Strong had 16.

It was anybody's game up until the 3:30 mark in the fourth period. The locals had a 69 to 65 lead, but Charlie Williams, who had replaced Klonowski, converted two charity tries. Strong, who played a strong second half, also despite four fouls, boosted the Maroons lead 73-65 with a three-point play.

After Bob Short and Pat McKenna exchanged baskets, Uhl and Short connected for one-handers from the side and Kingston had a 79 to 69 spread with less than two minutes. Joe Molinaro sliced the margin with his 16th and 17th points, but after that it was all Kingston. Aside from a foul shot by Tom Wall, Uhl scored six straight points to boost his night's work to 26 points and ironically, match a similar performance by his kid brother, Joe, who led the junior varsity to its 11th victory.

With seconds remaining, Dick DeFew hit from the outside, but Strong came right back with a "patsy" on a fine assist by Hobie Armstrong.

Short Big Help
The loss of Kelly darkened Kingston's hopes as he had scored 15 points in the first two periods. But as it turned out, Short nearly duplicated his scoring total by hitting for 13 and with the four he hit earlier, had 17 points.

After Klonowski fouled out at the five minute mark in the last stanza, the Maroons five point lead didn't look good. He was getting the team's share of rebounds, but more important, his leadership had been a factor up until his departure.

But the bench came through. A preview of what is in store for the next two seasons since most of the boys are sophomores and juniors. Poughkeepsie suffered a big loss when Deke Johnson went out on fouls late in the last period. He had sparked the visitors to within striking distance and had been doing a pretty fair defensive job on Uhl.

The Maroons' fine scorer, who potted 26, labored for everything he got up until the bespectacled Pioneer went out. Uhl scored once from the field in the third quarter. In the preceding periods, Johnson was over Uhl like a glove but he managed to can 11 points by the intermission. Some of Uhl's shots were short of sensational, but he was off his game during that trying second period when his heaves went in and out of the basket.

The Gilliganes countered 35 times out of 75 attempts and hit 19 for 28 from the foul line. The team's shooting percentage was 47 per cent, a trifle better than the Pioneers who converted 26 for 59 for 43 per cent. The visitors had 39 tries at the charity stripe and countered 22 times.

Banner Season Predicted

John Spada Is Elected National LL President

NOT SO SHORT—Bobby Short, a second half spark in Kingston's 89 to 74 win over Poughkeepsie, is ready to pop one over the outstretched arms of Tom Wall, Bridge City center. Short connected for 17 points, 13 in the last half in his best performance of the season.

All 1957 Managers Retained This Season

John A. Spada, a pre-war Kingston High School football star, was elected president of the National Little League last night.

Spada, who has shown keen interest in Little League activities over the years, succeeds Ray Radel, who was recently named administrative assistant to Vernon J. Kelder, the District representative.

Other officers named at the largely attended meeting at the VFW home were: Edward Hofbauer, secretary; Amity Wood, treasurer; and Edwin Baker, park director.

Named to the advisory board were Joseph Cavano, James Carlson, Edward Norton and Edward Cunningham.

Mrs. P. Richards and Mrs. John Hogan were named co-chairmen of a committee to formulate plans for the activation of a mothers auxiliary for 1958. Other members of the committee are Mrs. J. Conlin and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Pat De Cicco was named umpire-in-chief and all managers from last year were certified for the coming season. The pilots are Lou De Cicco, Charles Diers, Pete Camp and Frank Perry.

One change was made in the farm system where Mrs. Hogan becomes the first woman in local history to manage a Little League team.

Bodie Grounds Chief

The grounds will be under the direction of Ernest Bodie, one of the league's staunchest supporters.

Spada, the new president, has given unstintingly of his time for Little League promotion over the years. He has been umpire-in-chief of the National League for the past two seasons and has personally directed the assignment of umpires so that all teams had competent officiating.

He has been employed by Pilgrim Furniture Company for the past 20 years and is foreman of the sewing and cutting department. He was manager of two Ulster County CYO Midget league championship teams and was awarded a CYO medal as Man of the Year in Ulster County in 1956. He is also a member of St. Mary's Holy Name Society.

League officials expressed gratification at the large turnout of parents for last night's meeting. All league officials also were present and there was justified optimism for a banner season in 1958.

Woodstock Wins First

Cottekill School Downs Hurley for Half Title

Cottekill School won the Ulster County Elementary School's first half basketball title yesterday by defeating Hurley School 36 to 18. Both were unbeaten with 4-0 records going into the game.

Walt Patmore was the whole show as he caged 20 and held the high scoring Charlie Palen to four points. Hurley scored only four points in the first three periods, while the winners were amassing 28 points.

In another contest, Woodstock won its first game, 32 to 29 over Marlborough, but got help from Town's Doug Siemer who pulled a "Wrong Way Corrigan" with an important basket which cut a four-point lead down to two.

The second half gets underway Monday.

Closed Circuit TV Boosts Plan For Pay-and-See

NEW YORK (AP)—Possibilities of a record 2 million dollars from closed circuit television of the return Carmen Basilio-Ray Robinson middleweight title fight may make pay-to-come-and-see television a potent rival to the coming pay-as-you-see video in the sports picture.

The 2 million figure was advanced optimistically today by officials of the TelePrompser Corp., which is handling the television end of the March 25 title fight in Chicago.

The officials, president Irving Kahn and vice-president Bill Rosensohn, said they already have signed 160 outlets with a seating capacity of 481,000.

"It's the largest network ever assembled for a closed-circuit show," said Rosensohn. "We expect to have a record 200 theaters with a seating capacity of 550,000 hooked up for the fight. Of this, we expect between 450,000 and 475,000 tickets to be sold at an average of 4 a seat."

"We could do 2 million the way this is going," added Kahn. "We have just signed up the Cross Country Shopping Center in Yonkers, N. Y. The operators plan to build a temporary stadium and have guaranteed as well in excess of 5,000 seats."

"In addition to theaters, said Rosensohn, "we have signed up arenas in Rochester, Syracuse, Houston, San Francisco and Louisville. We may get more buildings with huge seating capacities."

"Boxing men like Norm Rothschild in Syracuse and Rochester, Lou Viscusi in Houston, Sid Flaherty in San Francisco and Lee Gorman in Bangor, Me., are promoting the shows in their towns. Rothschild and Viscusi are going to have preliminary fights as an added attraction. Flaherty and other boxing men may do the same thing."

Yardley Hits 52 For NBA Mark

By The Associated Press
Bald, wiry George Yardley and chunky, handsome Cliff Hagan have written two more scoring records into the point-happy National Basketball Assn.'s book of facts.

Yardley, well on his way to the NBA scoring championships, scored a season's high of 52 points last night as he led the Detroit Pistons to an 118-113 victory over the Syracuse Nationals at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

Hagan's name goes in the space reserved for the fellow scoring the most points in one quarter of play. He had 26 in the fourth period at New York's Madison Square Garden, where the New York Knicks' bookers whipped Hagan and the St. Louis Hawks, 120-116, after Boston had spurred to beat Cincinnati, 107-87.

The Knicks' total of 120 marked the 36th consecutive game in which they have scored 100 or more points. The old record was 12 games in a row at a 100-points or more clip.

Yardley's performance, during which he also grabbed 20 rebounds, came after Philadelphia's Warriors had opened a double-header at Detroit with a 107-103 victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Dupas' Unbeaten Streak on Line Against Ortega

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Lightweight Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, who went through 1957 without losing a fight, will try to continue his streak of successes tonight against welterweight Gaspar Ortega of Mexico.

The two meet in the 11th annual March of Dimes Boxing Carnival at the Norfolk City Arena. Dupas, the second-ranked lightweight who won six and drew one bout in last year's campaigning, may realize a lifelong ambition if he makes a good showing in the nationally televised (ABC) fight. Sources in New Orleans have indicated a good showing against Ortega could give Dupas a bout with lightweight champion Joe Brown. There were reports such a fight would be staged on barges in the Gulf of Mexico.

Ortega, the fifth ranked welterweight, expects to weigh about 145 pounds for tonight's bout. Dupas expects to come in at about 141. Dupas has won 68 fights, lost eight and tied six in his career, while Ortega has won 45 and dropped 11.

Gene Bilbao, Heck Star

Wallkill's Late Rally Trips Maybrook, 61-58

Wallkill High School staged a torrid last two minute drive to edge out Maybrook 61 to 58 last night in a non-league encounter at the Orange County school.

Coach Ernie Thompson's squad was seven points down at the 2:30 mark, but a string of nine straight points, lined up by Gene Bilbao, Greg Van Duser and Henry Heck did the trick.

The Blue Devils trailed through most of the contest, 32-22 at halftime, before they started to make its quest for victory.

Heck spearheaded the last half drive with 20 points after being held scoreless in the first two periods. Heck and Bilbao were the big point getters in a rough game which is not indicated in the number of fouls called.

Ralph Bilbao was injured in one of the game's rough spots and may be lost to the Devils for its all-important game Friday with Rondout Valley.

The junior varsity hung a 67-46 defeat to once-beaten Maybrook to even a score for its first setback last week. Bob Wright and Ken Runsey paced the winning attack with 31 and 23 points, respectively.

Lawrence Posts 35 as Liberty High Beats Monties for 10th

Liberty High, spearheaded by DUSO's top choice for "player of the year" honors, John Lawrence, breezed to its 10th straight league win last night by pulverizing Monticello High, 83 to 40 at home.

The diminutive point getter delivered 35 points, his season's high, as the Redskins' unbeaten record was never in jeopardy.

Coach Bob Van Slyke used his entire bench against the outclassed opposition in an effort to keep the score respectable. But as in preceding games, it was all Lawrence who had control from the start. He poured in 11 fields and 13 free throws for the record mark. Josh Gerow and Jack Thompson, the team's other scoring combination, was used sparingly and tallied only 14 points between them.

Leo Armstead had 8 and Dick Stratton 7 to lead the losers. The Buck Roche squad trailed 17-9 at the quarter and 36-22 at the half. The victory gives the DUSO leaders a 12-0 overall record.

Phillies' Rookie Crop Is Touted Best in Years

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK — The Philadelphia Phillies, who had such good fortune with their rookies last year, figure to profit again from another fine freshman crop which will report to Clearwater, Fla., next month.

At least five of the 15 newcomers are considered excellent prospects with a chance to stick. They are pitcher Roman (Ray) Semproch, outfielders Don Landrum and Charles Essegian, first baseman Frank Herrera and third baseman Forrest (Woody) Smith.

Semproch is a 27-year-old right-hander who finished with a 12-4 mark at Miami after a woeful start. International League officials considered him the best pitcher in the circuit during the second half of the season. After failing in his first five starts, during which he compiled a 3-2 record in relief, Semproch suddenly found himself and won 10 of his last 11 decisions. From July 20 through August 20, Miami won 21 games and the Cleveland native won seven of them. During that span he allowed only 12 runs and 51 hits in 66 1-3 innings.

Successor to Ashburn

Landrum is being groomed as Richie Ashburn's successor in center field. Only 21, the speedy outfielder batted .296 in 143 games with Miami and led the league with 17 triples.

Essegian, who spent the 1957 season with Schenectady, is a righthanded power hitter who batted .355, slammed 20 home runs and drove in 87 runs although he played in only 80 games.

Herrera, presently playing in the Cuban winter league, batted .304 with the Marlins, led the International League with 172 hits, clouted 17 home runs and drove in 92 runs.

Smith, a 30-year-old righthanded hitter, batted .282 at Miami with 15 home runs and 73 runs batted in.

Three bonus boys are back from service — catcher Mack Burk and outfielder Fred Van Dusen and Joe Turk. Another previously untried youngster is John Easton who played briefly at Schenectady last year, batting .143 in 14 games.

Also back for another chance are five Miami hurlers, Gene Snider (4-6), Earl Hunsinger (2-2), Angelo Lietri (1-0), Tom Quarters (11-12) and Bob Conley (4-3).

Over Middies

Still Prevails

The biggest jinx in DUSO history was extended last night when Newburgh Free Academy made it 18 in a row over a nine-year span by defeating Middletown High, 61-49 at the latter's court.

The Middies were unable to do anything with George Lanky Masterson's squad. With the exception of an early lead, the Goldbacks moved out in front midway in the opening period and coasted the rest of the way.

Roy Riley was in form. Showing no ill effects of last week's illness which contained him against Liberty, the rugged center threw in 30 points and did everything else well. He led in the rebounding department and sparked a 34 to 25 halftime lead.

Vince DeCervo had 14. Tony Bellotto led the losers with 16 points. Jeff Rosen contributed 12.

Bob Bondar and Bill Haber Starring at Oneonta State

Oneonta State Teachers Col-

Both Kingston athletes played fine ball, with Bondar finding the range early to lead the Red Dragons to a halftime bulge of 37-32. The 6'2" senior contributed 11 points to the Oneonta effort during the game's first 20 minutes and displayed an excellent board game.

Duke Hitting Hot Pace In Atlantic Coast Loop

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

By rights, Duke's Blue Devils should be dragging their feet about now. Instead, they're sprinting through a suicide schedule in a run for the top in the tough Atlantic Coast Conference basketball race.

The 73-57 victory over Clemson last night was the sixth in a row for the Blue Devils, now tied for second in the ACC, and their third in four nights.

Trouble is, Duke has two more to go in its rough rumble through five games in 11 days' time. And the two left are no patsies—defending champ North Carolina Saturday and first-place North Carolina State next Tuesday, both on the road.

All the scrambling isn't for a title, just for position in the pairings for next month's tournament that will decide the champion and NCAA Tournament entry. The first and fourth-place finishers in regular season play are paired in one bracket, the second and third-place clubs in the other.

NC State slipped out of a tie with idle North Carolina by getting past Virginia 61-58 last night while Duke joined the Tar Heels in second place. NC State is 7-2, North Carolina and Duke 6-2.

Duke, 11-5 over all, started its six-game streak by defeating NC State 76-75 in overtime, then knocked off top-ranked and previously unbeaten West Virginia to move into the Associated Press rankings this week in 13th place.

First-half shooting decided the game against Clemson at Charlotte, N. C., with the Blue Devils hitting 53 per cent from the field while Clemson managed only 15.4, sinking but six of 39 shots. Duke led 37-14 at the half and breezed. Bob Vernon, deadly with a one-hander from the corner, led Duke with 24 points, but all five starters hit double figures.

NC State, 13-3 for the season and ranked No. 9 nationally, needed a foul shot by Lou Pucillo and a pair by Whitey Bell in the final minute to get past Virginia.

Harness Racing 'Take' at New High

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York State Harness Racing Commission today reported all records broken in 1957 with state revenue up 12.69 per cent, wagering up 19.16 per cent and attendance up 13.92 per cent as compared with 1956.

In his annual report, Commissioner George P. Monaghan said revenue to the state was $32,767,271, an increase of $3,684,070 over 1956, parimutuel wagering totaled $378,757,390 as compared with $325,420,967 in 1956; attendance was 6,137,990, up from 5,388,165.

Monaghan also noted that the tracks increased purses by 14.98 per cent, from $8,934,592 in 1956 to $10,268,442 last season.

"It is significant that this New York State purse distribution represents 50 per cent of purses paid at all parimutuel harness racing tracks in the United States."

"New York State, with only 34 per cent of the parimutuel harness racing days allotted throughout the entire United States, accounted for 56 per cent of the national attendance and 63 per cent of the national parimutuel handle."

Monaghan noted that during the year the $20,000,000 Roosevelt Raceway was opened. Improvements and construction programs also went ahead at Yonkers, Batavia Downs, Vernon Downs and Saratoga Raceway.

The commission also issued an eighth license, to the Sullivan County Harness Racing Assn., which will open the new Monticello Raceway in June.

Dart Results

Ulster Grange men and women scored 2-1 dartball victories over Highland in a Grange League match. The men won by scores of 6-5, 4-8 and 6-2. The women prevailed 4-2, 13-9 and 5-4.

Longest Big Ten punt of 1957 went 70 yards. It was kicked by Franklin Luksik of Wisconsin against Ohio State.

Navy Blows Up Satellite After Wobbly Takeoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (P)—
The Navy's second Vanguard satellite rocket roared skyward today but ended just like the first—in a fiery explosion.

Sixty seconds after a beautiful takeoff at 2:33 a. m., the bullet-shaped Vanguard wobbled crazily, broke into two pieces and was destroyed by the test range safety officer.

If the flight had succeeded, the Navy would have put a tiny
"moon" into orbit with the Army's Explorer, which was fired aloft Friday by the Jupiter-C missile.

20,000 Flight Climb
But the Vanguard climbed only about 20,000 feet into a cold, starry sky before the safety officer, R. D. Stephens, pressed the button that blew it apart and sent it plunging toward the ocean in fiery blazing fragments.

So Soviet Russia, having launched two Sputniks, still holds a numerical lead in the race to have the fascinating secrets of outer space. Sputnik I disintegrated Jan.
4 but Sputnik II, carrying a dead dog, still whirled silently around earth.

In Washington, Dr. John P.
Hagen, director of Project Vanguard, said he would try "as soon as we can" to launch another of the rockets.

He would not estimate when that might be. Nor would he comment on the effect of today's failure on a schedule calling for firing a fully-instrumented, 20-inch Vanguard satellite next month.

The first Vanguard rocket, fired here Dec. 6, struggled upward only four feet before it

QUESTION: Lots of my friends are adding theft and burglary insurance to their other coverages but I would like to know if there is really any more reason to buy it now than there was twenty years ago.

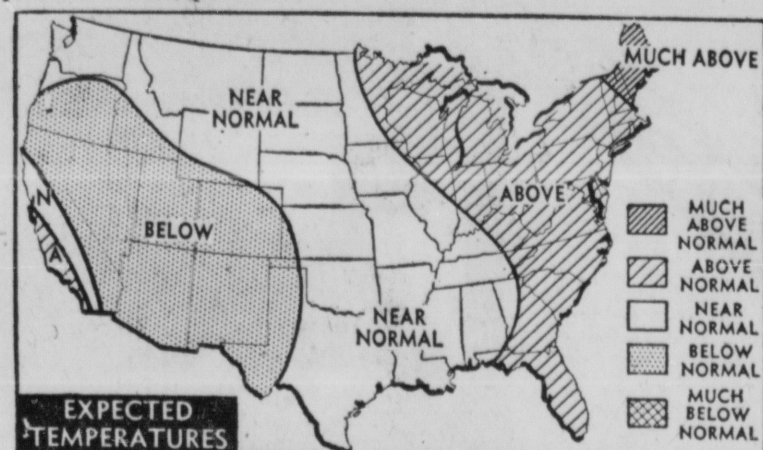

ANSWER: Yes, the crimes against property are steadily increasing. Also the value of property stolen each year is steadily going up.

Wet's Word for February

The weather maps, below, give you the U. S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast for February. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of average temperatures and precipitation for the period.

EXPECTED TEMPERATURES
Temperatures above normal are expected over the northeastern and South Atlantic states during February. Below-normal temperatures are seen for the southwest, with exception of an above-normal band along the west coast. For the rest of the nation: near-normal readings.

EXPECTED PRECIPITATION
Precipitation during February is going to be heavy over most of the nation. Near-normal amount is expected in Gulf states. One area to experience subnormal moisture pokes upward from the Gulf into the Southern Plains states.

Heavy Snow Is Swirling East

BUFFALO — The season's heaviest Great Lakes storm in New York swirled eastward today breaking into scattered flurries.

Behind it lay a wide area of western and central New York engaged in clearing away some of the deepest snow blankets in years.

The storm rode in on winds that reached gusts up to 50 miles an hour off Lake Erie, beginning on Monday night.

It was blamed for one traffic death and a death from heart attack, that of Thomas Jackson, 68, who collapsed and died yesterday after shoveling snow at his home in Rochester.

Rochester itself caught 15 inches of wind-whipped snow — the worst accumulation there in 13 years—for a total of 25 inches on the ground.

More than 100 schools and many business firms were closed for the day. While main highways were all open to traffic last night, secondary roads were clogged with snow and several were blocked altogether.

Rail and air transportation, badly disrupted, were restored to normal schedules by last night.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted a breathing spell today with generally clearing skies marred by occasional local snow flurries.

But the bureau cautioned that a mass of Arctic air moving southeast from Manitoba threatened to collide with a warm mass moving up from the Gulf of Mexico and might precipitate another extended storm in a day or so.

Rap West Attacks

MOSCOW — The Soviet youth paper today called four American, British and Canadian air attacks "hooligans," and another newspaper attacked U. S. correspondents in Moscow for stories they wrote months ago.

The attacks were accused of "behaving like hooligans" on a train and later messing up a hotel room.

The correspondents who came under attack are William J. Jordan of The New York Times and Howard Norton of the Baltimore Sun.

Unusual Address

DES MOINES, Iowa — Two Des Moines men received cards recently from a restaurant owner who has retired and moved to California. Both cards were addressed to the telephone number of one of the men.

Kidnaper Gives Up Following 4-Day Manhunt

PADUCAH, Ky. — The grim four-day manhunt for kidnaper Carl E. Burton ended last night. He ran into police headquarters and surrendered because "the pressure was too much."

Two policemen chased Burton as he ran, hands in the air and a fully-loaded revolver sticking in his belt.

It was a dramatic climax to one of this area's most intensive searches which began when Burton and Harold Davis, 33, kidnaped Missouri state trooper William Little at Van Buren, Mo., Saturday night.

Glad It's Over

Burton said at the police station:

"I'm glad it's over. The pressure was getting too much. I knew I couldn't get away. I had to quit running."

Police from four states converged on this western Kentucky area when the pair, holding Little hostage, smashed through roadblocks in Little's police cruiser.

Burton and Davis, both of Redwood, Calif., fled to a remote section of McCracken County late Saturday night, holed up at a farm home and held Little and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Shelton hostage for 24 hours.

Davis cracked under the pressure and shot and wounded himself. Burton fled into the river bottomlands Sunday, leaving Little and the Sheltons unharmed.

Police set up massive roadblocks within a 50-mile radius. A misunderstanding caused death of a young woman at one roadblock when her car drove through.

It was not until Patrolmen Marion Shelbourne and James Arts recognized Burton walking down a street here last night that the manhunt ended.

Under $300,000 Bond

The officers turned a spotlight on Burton, ordered him to halt and started after the fugitive.

But Burton, only a few doors from the police station, kept going. He ran into the station and was immediately disarmed. The pistol belonged to Little.

Burton was ordered held under $300,000 bond on a federal kidnapping charge and $5,000 bond on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen car. He waived preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Herbert Melton Jr., and was ordered held to the April 21 federal grand jury.

Fire Claims Student

LAKE GROVE — One student perished early today and two were injured as fire destroyed a boys' dormitory at Lake Grove School, a private coeducational institution which draws most of its students from the New York City area.

The youth's body was found in the still-smoldering ruins of the $300,000 two-story frame structure. He was identified as Emil Custer, 14. No address was available immediately.

Thirty-nine boys and five teachers fled in subfreezing temperatures via fire escapes and other exits after John Adrian, 13-year-old freshman from Brooklyn, spotted the fire on the second floor and sounded an alarm. Some leaped from second-floor windows.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

Normal Temperatures Due Next 6 Days

ALBANY — The extended forecasts for New York State, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7 p. m. today to 7 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York — Temperatures will average around normal winter levels, and precipitation is expected to range between one-half and one inch in water content. More moderate temperatures at the beginning to be followed by a colder trend over the weekend. Warming trend at the beginning of next week. A period of snow or rain at the beginning and again by Sunday night or Monday.

Western New York — Changeable, wet weather is indicated, with temperatures averaging near normal. Cloudy and mild, wet snow and rain or rain Thursday and Friday. Snow and turning much colder over the weekend. One inch of more of melted precipitation is expected.

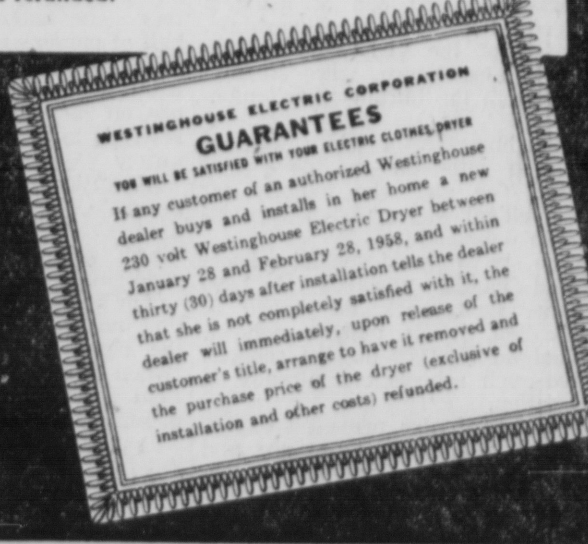

Temperature Normals—Normal temperatures over Upstate New York now range from early morning lows of 6 to 12 in the north, 10 to 16 in the central and west portions and 12 to 20 in the southeast. Highest afternoon temperatures range from 25 to 30 in the north, 28 to 32 in the central and west and 30 to 36 in the southeast.

Origin Unknown

Students of plant origins are still trying to determine the origin of corn. All vegetables are known to have ancestral form, but not corn.

which formerly drew thousands of people to the county.

Notes Ave's Action

He said it was astonishing that local residents who benefit socially and economically from the streams should permit political action to destroy them.

Gilligan said Gov. Harriman has ordered a survey of streams in an effort to preserve them for sportsmen—but again, political undercurrents raise problems.

He exhorted members of the club and the general public to appeal directly to the Governor to publish the report with one eye to curtailing further destruction of the county's fishing streams since the overall economic impact of stream preservation far outweighs the few local jobs the public works department can offer in the employment of destruction.
